Good Summer!

After a busy year of interesting OGS programs, the Seminar and Genealogy Cafe, we can take time to focus on personal genealogical pursuits. If you need help or would like to help others with research questions, the Genealogy Cafe will be meeting, as usual, on the third Thursday of each month throughout the summer. We will be sharing stories of summer genealogical successes and stumbles at the September Meeting. See you then!

Leota Kisor, Family and Friends

By
Mary Lee Kisor

The Kisor and Otis families were prominent, early residents of WA and OR.

Leota Beatrice Otis was born June 28, 1899, at the original St. Peter Hospital in Olympia, which at that time was located on 11th Street, where the totem pole now stands across from the General Administration Building on the Capitol Campus. Her parents were John T. Otis (1875-1944) and Marie J. Woods Otis (1878-1942). In 1914 John Otis hired the architect, Joseph Wohleb, to design the Otis House he was building at 203 E. 18th in Olympia. The Tudoresque and Craftsman styled home is listed on the Olympia Historical Register. His business endeavors included being Thurston County assistant county auditor, Olympia city council member, Mayor protem of Olympia, manager of Otis & Brown, a real estate and insurance agency, and Manager of Capital Savings and Loan Association. John was also a land developer and developed the Wildwood Park Addition, naming the streets after his close friends: O'Farrel, Rowen, Buker, Galloway, and of course, Otis. Marie J. Woods was born in Missouri and she told her grandson that she traveled to Olympia via covered wagon train as a young girl.

John Otis' parents were Henry Clay Otis (1830–1905) and Elizabeth Mathilda Higgins (1832–1919). The Otis family came to America back to the early 1600s when they helped to settle the Cape Cod area of Massachusetts. According to Henry's obituary, his family moved to Olympia in 1891. All of the Otis' are buried in the Masonic Cemetery in Tumwater, WA.

Leota grew up in Olympia and graduated in 1918 from the original Olympia High School, which was destroyed by fire later that year. The High School was located on the capitol campus, near the present rose garden. She went on to college at the University of WA and graduated in 1922 with a degree in teaching. Leota taught English, Latin, and Greek in Deer Lodge, Montana, before returning to Olympia to marry her high school sweetheart, Orval Kisor, on December 25, 1924.

Orval Kisor was born in Elgin, OR, in 1899. His parents were Otis Kisor (1874–1935) and Clara Dixon Kisor (1877–1928). They were married in Lincoln Co., OR, on April 3, 1893. The Dixons were early pioneers of Benton County, OR. Clara Dixon's father came west via wagon train from Independence, MO, in 1845. Both Otis and Clara are also buried in the Masonic Cemetery.

Leota and Orval had three sons, Jack (1925 – 1979), Keith, and Lee, all graduates of Olympia High School. This Olympia High School was situated on Capitol Way, across the street from the Capitol Campus' Tivoli Fountain. Orval, together with silent partner, Delta V. Smith of Delta V. Smith Tug & Barge, started Ordel Oil Company in the early 1940's. Ordel Oil Co. was a heating oil and furnace supplier through the 1970s. In approximately 1943 Leota met Margaret McKenny, who mentored her studies of nature, birds, wildflowers, and mushrooms. Margaret McKenny was a nationally known naturalist and author, and the Margaret McKenny Elementary School was named for her. Leota enjoyed sharing her knowledge by giving slide lectures on wildflowers, birds, and mushrooms. She kept a journal of her daily activities and the following are some excerpts from her 1972 diary:

Friday, February 26th: Friday evening I had Al & Enid Livingston over. They wanted to see my wild flower pictures. Al was a geology professor in California, now retired. We got acquainted with them at Audubon Club. I think Margaret introduced them to me. They are mycologists and botanists, so we shall have fun this spring hunting flowers. Father Christopher, head of the Botany Dept. at Saint Martins wants to see my flowers, too. I shall entertain him one of these evenings.

Wednesday, April 5th: Got a little work done in my rock garden but it rained in late afternoon. The tulips are coming into bloom before the garden is cleaned out. If only it would quit raining. Peggy Burwell from the library called & wants me to be the Historian for the new association they are starting called "Friends of the Library." I was very luke-warm & told her I would think about it. I am not anxious to take on more work.

Saturday, April 8th: Another terrible day! I don't know when we have had such a rainy spring. The sun would come out for a minute and then a deluge would let down with a mixture of snow & rain. I went down town this morning and bought two books, a little book of poetry called Rhymes for the Irreverent (which I find I do not like) and Iberia. It is a great book and I enjoyed the library copy very much. The price has raised and I had to pay $12.50 for it. The way things are going we seem doomed to a depression. Prices can't go up forever.

Monday, April 10th: Have finished the travelogue & history of Spain—Iberia. It was so good I hated to finish it. It is good to live in another world in a book, vicariously. Armchair traveling is next best to really visiting another land.

Monday, April 17th: Three astronauts have taken off for the moon again yesterday. This is the 5th trip. No. 3 was not completed but 4 did alright. This is Apollo 16. Apollo 11 was Armstrong's 1st landing. It seems impossible. Am going to give a garden talk at P.E.O. today so I had better stop this—it is 11:15—and get ready. The subject is "Anyone can have a green thumb."

Tuesday, April 18th: I did not think my garden talk had much merit but the gals were very enthusiastic and praised it a lot so I guess they liked it. Monday eve I went to a meeting at the library where we formed a new club called Friends of the Library. I was asked to be the historian.

Friday, April 21st: The astronauts landed on the moon last night about 6:P.M. It was thought for several hours they might have to give it up without a landing for something went wrong in the command ship but was later corrected. It is raining again and there was a hard hail storm a few minutes ago. My poor tulips & things! This is the worst spring for many years. Tonite is Audubon Club and I am one of the hostesses. Have to make cookies now for it.

Saturday, April 29th: The astronauts came down safely Thursday from the moon and I am happy for them and their wives & mothers.

Sunday, April 30th: Daylight saving started today. Went mushrooming with Marcy (friend Marcella Piersall) and Dr. Scott Chilton, who is a bio-chemist at the U. of W. He is collecting and studying Amanita pantherina. We took him to mound prairie and found a basketful around the fir trees there. There were also many other species and I sure learned something today that I never have known before—that there are many types of mushrooms out in the spring. I used to think there were only verpas & morels at this time of year but Sunday we found collybias, my bright yellow gilled gymnopilus, stropharias, panealus, cinnamon cartinarius strain & a few others I did not know.

The mission bells are coming out on the prairie, there are lots of shooting stars & buttercups but the adunka violets & yellow prairie violets are not out yet.

Friday, May 19th: Tonite is Audubon club and I am in charge of the program. There will be a bird's nest exhibit and nature motion picture.

Saturday, May 20th: The Audubon Club bird meeting turned out pretty well. My exhibit of bird nests & little jingles about birds together with the "bird tree" made of a manzanita branch covered with ivy and decorated with my little feathered birds with moss at base went over very well. Cindy (granddaughter, Cindy Kisor) took cookies and acted as one of the hostesses helping Reynaldine (Sandahl, a friend). Officers were elected and I got out of being vice-president at last. David McNeth took my place. This was our first meeting without Jean and it did not seem right. (close friend, Jean Coulter, died on May 11th.) Rudy led a bird walk today & about 11 were present. Went over to the old brewery & then to Priest Point where we ate lunch.

Tuesday, July 4th: An uneventful 4th of July for us. Neither of the boys called, but I suppose Jack was at the farm & Keith out in his boat. I spent the day getting ready for our trip & shopping for groceries for Eda (Eichner, a friend) who will stay here. It is a sad though that we can't enjoy our deck on the creek edge for picnics on account of the deer flies—they are thick and bite your legs. I killed every one that bit me today. When they are biting they are easy to swat. Well, we are off in the morning. I wish Orv really wanted to go.

Wednesday, July 5th: The sun was out when we left home but by the time we got to Astoria it was cloudy, windy & cold. We drove to Pacific City and stayed at our old favorite place Surftides, (about 200 miles) the ocean beach motel where we stayed several times years ago. It has changed a great deal, is enlarged, redecorated, has a very good café, gift shop, beauty parlor & barber shop. The flowers, in flower boxes, are beautiful—petunias, dahlias, etc. We had an excellent dinner but it cost $13.00 with the tip, & no cocktails. Our room was $22.50.

Thursday, July 6th: Today we drove down to Florence to find the Darlingtonia swamp where these "pitcher plants" grow thickly. A wayside attraction has been made of the place and a nature trail with built up wooden walk leads thru it. I took several pictures. Next we went to Yaquina Bay & to the place on the beach where Orv's Aunt's old hotel used to be. Then on to Elk City where Orv was born. (Note, Leota was mistaken, Orval was actually born in Elgin, in eastern OR. But his mother, Clara Dixon, was born in Elk City, and his grandfather, James Edward Dixon, is buried there.) It has grown a little but the old country store is still there & the old covered bridge across the Yaquina River which runs thru the village. Met a lady who was taking pictures of the bridge. Said she was from Indiana & taking pictures of covered bridges was her hobby. She has about 500 slides from all over the U.S. Tonight we came back up the beach highway & are staying at Depoe Bay at Arch Rock Motel, a cute motel right at the rock's edge—beautiful sandstone beach here. Had a very good dinner at the Spouting Horn Café.

Sunday, July 23rd: Arrived here (Iron Springs Resort, north of Ocean Shores, WA) at 3 o'clock this aft. It had been cloudy all day but not too cool, still I want it to get hot & sunshiny at the beach. I like this cabin for it's very homey & warm. The kitchen is modern & complete. Has a fireplace too. When I had it two years ago it was 14 dollars, now it's 16 & one dollar extra per day for Mike (their German Shepherd).

Monday, July 24th: I had creamed salmon on toast for dinner, cabbage slaw from our cabbages, tomato juice & apple sauce with cookies. Food tastes pretty good at the ocean.

Tuesday, July 25th: I have this cabin fixed up pretty cute with a green & white checkered vinyl cloth on the table. It is centered with my bronze candle stick with a green candle in it (in case the lights go out). My books (on flowers & birds) and the radio & a map of the state of Wash. on the wall and other knick-knacks make the cabin homey. Orval is reading a Reader's Digest book as I write. This resort is crowded and there are many voices of shouting children outside.

Friday, August 4th: This is Marcella's birthday & the day that Margaret died—my Margaret. Never have I learned so much from anyone else.

Thursday, November 2nd: Yesterday Reynaldine & I went to Bremerton to give a mushroom show. She drove & also ran the slides for me. The Edmans were very nice to us; had us to dinner in their home. They paid for our motel and gave me $20.00, which I divided with Reynaldine. Their club was nice & there were about 60 or 70 people present.

Orval Kisor died of a heart attack on July 12, 1974. He was preparing to go fishing, one of his favorite pastimes. Leota passed away of a lingering illness on April 4, 1977, surrounded by her family. They are buried in the Masonic Cemetery in Tumwater, WA.

Published in The Olympian, Thursday, June 5, 2008.

Frances May Anderson, daughter of Malcolm Campbell Anderson and Florence Eva Crosby, was born at Olympic Hospital, Bremerton, Kitsap County, Washington, on 24 May 1932. The Anderson family resided from 1932 to 1941 at Manette, Kitsap County, Washington. Her father died in January 1941 at Centenario Hospital, Papantla, Veracruz, Mexico. Her mother died circa 1969 in Bremerton. Fran had two siblings, Adda and Samuel; both preceded her in death. Frances did not have any children.

She was graduated as Salutatorian in May 1950 at Sequim High School, Sequim, Washington. Frances started work as a laboratory technician in 1951 in Richland, Washington, first with General Electric Company, in 1951, and then 1965 with Hanford Atomic Works.

Fran married Robert Lowell DeMers on 9 August 1952 at Sequim, Washington. They were divorced in January 1963.

She was employed by Preservative Paint Company, as a quality control chemist from 1969 -1975 at Seattle, Washington. She started work for the Army as a Lab.Tech. In September 1975 she began work at the Sewage Treatment Plant at Fort Lewis, Washington. She resided between 1977 and 1987 in Yelm, Washington. Frances graduated from Evergreen U. with a Bachelor of Arts (major - chemistry, minor - computers).

Fran married Raymond Leroy Swim, July 1987, at Riverside Crystal Bells Chapel, Reno, Nevada. She and Ray were divorced in 1989. Her name was legally changed to back to Frances May Anderson in 1989 (maiden name).

She was diagnosed with breast cancer, and had a mastectomy in February 2000 at St. Peter's Hospital, Olympia, Washington. She went through five and a half weeks of radiation therapy. She had surgery for colon cancer on 25 April 2002 at St. Peter's Hospital, Olympia, Washington.

From 2003 to 2007, she was in remission from her cancer. When her tests began to show cancerous activity once again, Fran went through several different chemo treatments. None seemed to be effective. She was admitted to the hospital May, 2008 for 10 days, then was strong enough to be sent home. After arriving home on 1 June, she passed away in the early hours of the next morning.

I will miss Fran so much. Having her as one of my best friends for 15 years enriched my life and contributed to my growth as a person. Shirley Gregory

Jo Ann Lysak

Jo Anne Lysak (born Matthes 1927) died of heart failure while at home Saturday, April 5, 2008. She is survived by her devoted husband, William Lysak, PhD.; sons, William H. Lysak, Thomas P. Lysak, and John F. Lysak, daughter-in-law, Helen Lazara; sister, Marvlyn Dehn; nieces, Dorothy Hersey and Cynthia Vaskis; nephew, Donald Dehn; and extended family.

Jo Ann grew up in Bellingham, where she often said her grandfather, a grocer, spoiled her with a gift every day. Her father, a World War I veteran, died when she was ten years old. She subsequently lived in Seattle with her mother, Mona, who operated a gift shop. Jo Ann was a distinguished alumna of Broadway High School, a distinction she was awarded in recognition of her environmental work. Jo Ann attended college in Berkeley, California, and graduated with a Master of Social Work degree, after previously attending colleges in Oregon and Washington. As a young woman she was hired by the American Red Cross and was stationed in Germany. She enjoyed traveling through Europe, the Mid-East, Northern Africa and Asia.

While employed by the United States Army Hospital in Frankfurt, Germany, she met and in 1964 married in Basle, Switzerland, William Lysak. William, a World War II combat veteran, who became Chief of Psychology at the Army Hospital, brought to the marriage three very young sons. With her new family, Jo Ann moved to Olympia. There she worked for the Washington State Department of Child Protective Services as an adoption home placement officer.

Jo Ann had a lifelong interest in environmental protection. She became a community environmental activist, co-founding the Northeast Thurston Action Association. NET Action later proved instrumental in protecting the Nisqually Delta from deep water port intrusion. All of us who know and love the Delta have been touched by Jo Ann.

Later in life, genealogy became a major interest for Jo Ann. Because of this work, she met extended family in the United States, and Canada. While in Montreal, she noted the name of a distant relation on a monument who had immigrated in 1645.

A couple of years before her death, Jo Ann had the good fortune to travel to Florence with her husband and son, Thomas, for an extended visit with her son, John, a Professor of Fine Arts, studying there with his wife Helen. She often mentioned that as one of her life's highlights.

Jo Ann will be dearly missed by her loving family and all who knew her. All who wish to remember her may consider donations to the Nisqually Land Trust (www.NisquallyLandTrust.org) or other local causes. In accordance with her wishes, there will only be a private family memorial service. Jo Ann's obituary appeared in The Olympian, April 13, 2008. Jo Ann was a member of OGS from 1997-2008.

Mrs. Stennett was active in church work. She also pursued her photography hobby, putting together numerous slide programs, which were shown to schools, churches, and rock and camera clubs.

She was a member of the United Churches, the Olympia Camera Club, the Photographic Society of America, the Genealogical Society, and the Olympia Rock and Mineral Society.

Mrs. Stennett is survived by her two daughters, Barbara Ogg, of Petaluma, California; and Sandra Rude, of Atascadero, California; and two sisters, Aileen Ambrose, of Vancouver; and Catherine May, of Denver, Colorado.

EXCHANGE NOTES

By

Jean Laws & Pat Philippsen

The publications mentioned are sent to our society in exchange for our Quarterly which is sent to them. They are filed alphabetically by state and county in the vertical files in the genealogical section of the Olympia Library. Some of them are eventually bound and placed with the bound periodicals in the genealogical section or in storage at the Montesano Library but can be ordered at the reference desk to be sent to your library for your use.

Boulder CO G S Feb 2008- Graduates from University of CO College of Liberal Arts 1913-1921. It is arranged by year, name, degree received, occupation and residence.

Cornerstone G S Feb 2008 Waynesburg PA- Many articles on Greene Co. and Waynesburg, its people and places. One article of particular interest is on the forts, frontier block houses and fortified cabins of Greene Co in the southwestern corner of PA.

Puget Sound G S Mar 2008- Included is a handy index to back issues in 2007 by author and title of articles. Most publications index by surname so this is a new way of finding info.

Clallam Co G S Jan 2008- Would you like to win a golden shovel award? Members of this society submit their most outstanding find and some of the winners are listed here.

Chelan Valley G S Feb 2008- Includes an article on how to become involved in Family Search indexing. Go to FamilySearchIndexing.com and click on Volunteer. It sounds easy and is a good way to help others on your computer.

Seattle G S Autumn/Winter 2007-8- If you taught, or attended a country school, or one of your ancestors has, you will enjoy, "The Country School: Memories and Reflections. " It will bring back a flood of memories to many of us. Also lists of new books in both Seattle Public Library and Seattle G S library across from the archives.

MN Genealogist Sum 2007- This is a treasure trove for those doing Scandinavian research. First is an informative article on Scandinavian research followed by several personal accounts in Finland, Sweden and Minnesota.

Federation of Genealogical Societies Forum Fall 2007- Several articles caught my eye such as: "One Generation's Treasure is Another's Junk" and "The Egg Dish Meets History." They deal with making decisions of what to do with family inheritances.

Willamette Valley G S Fall 2007- This issue is dedicated to area schools including a history of education in OR Territory, and Marian Co., the kindergarten movement, Victor Point school and Register of pupils and Esther Plank's Schooldays to name a few.

Whitman Co G S Nov/Dec 2007- If you like to read about women's issues, you should read the material from "The New Northwest" which was published by Abigail Scott Duniway 1871-1887. It was devoted to campaigning for equal rights and women's suffrage.

Jefferson Co G S Newsletter Winter 2007- Celebrating 25 years, the newsletter relates the early beginnings, and many of the movers and shakers who are still members.

Stillaguamish Valley G S Nov/Dec 2007- WWI Biographical sketches and spotlight on Phyllis Hebert, how she got started and highlights of her genealogical research.

Tacoma Pierce Co G S Nov/Dec 2007- More books that involve a mystery in family history. I enjoy reading these, most of which are available in our library.

Mrs. Malory and a Death in the Family by Hazel Holt, A cousin comes to visit to find information on the family and ends up dead. Family Tree by Barbara Delinsky, A quest to find out why a woman has a black baby and its' genetic heritage. Bloodroot, by Susan Albert. Research to solve a genealogical puzzle and save a Mississippi plantation. Mallets Aforethought, by Sarah Graves. Fixing up an historical house leads to a mummified and a fresh body and their connection. Genealogy of Murder, by Lee Martin. Genealogy is used to solve the puzzle and find the murderer with much information about the Mormon Church. Steelechase, by Jane Langton. A mystery involving Civil War survivors and their connection to local Steeples. Bloodline, by Fiona Mountain. Research of a young man's family and why he had "bad genes."

Jefferson Co WA G S Spring 2008- Do you wonder about the professions and trades of our ancestors? Read all about the uses of the waterwheel and sawmills, pioneer banking, and earning a living in Jefferson Co in 1860. Websites for researching occupations are listed.

Hemet-San Jacinto G S Feb. 2008- I found an article on Civil War rations and how they were prepared. One standard item was hardtack. Included is a recipe if you'd like to make it and also one for Johnnie Cake as made in the south. In the north they made Skillgallee-fried salt pork with crumbled hardtack.

New Mexico G S March 2008- Besides numerous stories of early families, there is a 'must read' article on genealogy and citation. Included is a review of Elisabeth Shown Mills new book Evidence Explained: Citing History Sources from Certificates to Cyberspace, Genealogical Pub. 2007.

Toledo Area Ohio G S March 2008- Read the article "Memorial Day and the GAR" for a short history of this holiday. Also two websites listed are useful to Ohio researchers. One is <www.WorldVitalRecords.com> This site is free and includes federal land records for Ohio and other states. Ohio death certificates from 1908-1953 are on a family search web site.

West Virginia Review- a publication donated by Alma Greenwood. Only five issues were published due to death of the editor, but they are very useful on records of western VA. All records are complete and either alphabetical or indexed at the end of the series. Many of these settlers came from VA, MD, and western PA and moved on west so take a look. They will be under W. VA in the periodical file.

Tama Co. IA Jan 2008- Early history and development of Carroll Township is featured in this issue. It includes interesting biographical sketches of many of the early settlers.

Tacoma Pierce County GS 2008- Here are six mystery books using genealogical research. Six Proud Walkers, by Anthea Fraser: A story of the murdered Walker family, from the Cotswolds. Canterbury Papers, by Judith Healey. In 1200, King John of England searches for an illegitimate half brother who threatens his throne. Veiled Antiquity, by Rett MacPherson. A search for family treasures leads to murder. Perditon House, by Kathryn Wall. A search for family treasure buried during the Civil War. Stolen Honey, by Nancy Wright. Deaths at a bee farm and Native American ancestry.

Genealogical Soc of S Brevard FL Jan 2008- Brevards' Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution are celebrating the 225th anniversary of the last naval battle of the American Revolution off the coast of Cape Canaveral Mar 10, 1783.

So King Co News Mar/Apr 2008- Timely article by the president on how to prepare for a research trip. You might be able to pick new tips you hadn't thought about.

Sno Isle G S 1st quarter 2008- Story of "David Ruffner--Schoolboy, Businessman and Statesman" is an account of this young boy's life as he wrote it in the 1830s. A good source of what life was like in VA and W VA. It continues with his later life and how he influenced later generations.

Skagit Valley G S Mar/Apr 2008- This issue has an article on family lore and how to share what you've found with other family members, especially the young.

Genealogical Soc of Okaloosa Co Fl Winter 2005 issue 96- Yes, that date is correct. The society is way behind on their Journal. They have been publishing twice a year which didn't catch them up so they are not publishing 2006-2007 and will start again with two issues in 2008. We wish them luck.

Willamette Valley G S Winter 2008- Warden Jones's OR State Pen inmate registers for 1881-1903. Gives name, date admitted, term, charge, county and date discharged. Also a review of a book by Barbara Fifer, Wanted ! Wanted Posters of the Old West, pub. by Farcountry Press 2003. Posters cover many states and include info on criminals and the lawmen involved.

Minnesota Genealogist Autumn 2007- This society has a neat idea for their publication. They invite their members to write about their eight great grandparents. This can include vital stats and a short story or bio. Maybe an idea for us.

Federation of Genealogical Soc Spring 2008- Filled with timely news and articles such as "Keep Traditions Alive," which discusses photos, recordings and recipes and a humorous but useful look at GPS for genealogists.

Crawford Co KS G S Jan/Feb/Mar 2008- A new listing of Civil War Veterans of SE KS (Bourbon, Cherokee, Crawford) is started in this issue. Includes name, birth, death, military unit, county and cemetery buried. Any additional info would be welcome.

Muskegon Co MI G S Sep 2007- An article on stone rubbing, which might be a good project. This society is going to publish member's brick wall ancestors in future quarterlies. There is a good form to copy and use for brick walls.

Muskegon Co MI G S Dec 2007- A list of remaining Civil War Vets in Michigan as of May 30, 1945. The youngest was 96 and the oldest 102.

Milwaukee Co G S 2008- Here is a sad story which turned out well for someone. A woman did a thorough and well researched study of a Pearson family and had her DNA tested before publishing. It turns out that she wasn't related to the family at all, but she was persuaded to publish anyway. A real member found the book and it was a great help!
