President's Message

Happy New Year! There is so much to be excited about re genealogy this year. More and more information is available online either free, through the Timberland Regional Library website or in paid databases. I feel that I might actually have a chance to break down some brick walls.

Peggy Cooley, Olympia Genealogical Society program chair, has a variety of programs and a great annual dinner lined up for us.

David Purtee has put together a totally interesting seminar on DNA which, hopefully, will finally start to answer some of the hard questions about what can really be learned from current testing. Stay tuned for more info about the speakers and their topics.

At the Olympia Library, we have added new genealogy books from purchases and donations. The Genealogy Café (no food, only genealogy served) has proved popular with OGS members and the public at both the 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. meetings on the third Thursday and will continue in the foreseeable future.

Ann Olson, OGS education chair, has another Beginning Genealogy Workshop in the works for Saturday, March 8.

Finally, there are many genealogy seminars, conferences and programs planned throughout the state which offer the chance to learn from nationally known genealogists. Check the Washington State Genealogical Society website for a list.

I hope to see every one of you at the OGS general meetings on the second Thursday. The programs are great and there is great information to be shared after the break.

Pat Harper

COMING GENEALOGICAL EVENTS

Provided by Jerri McCoy & the Washington State Genealogical Society

- 7 Feb 2008 - Seattle, WA

Mac Genealogy Group <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~waseags/intgroups.html>> Migration nation: where did everyone go AND WHY? We'll look at the patterns of migration in the US, including the role played by geography, government grants, and the neighbors. Add collaterals and lost souls in Reunion.

- 6 Mar 2008 - Seattle, WA

Mac Genealogy Group <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~waseags/intgroups.html>> Brick Walls and Maiden Aunts. Everyone is stuck somewhere in their family history research. Bring your problem to class and we'll talk about solutions and allies - such as maiden aunts and one-name studies. Since it's Problem Night, bring in your Reunion problems for group discussion.

- 8 Mar 2008 - Jefferson Co, WA

Jefferson County Genealogical Society <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wajcgs>> presents a very special seminar for 2008, the 25th anniversary year of our organization, so mark your calendars now. This seminar will feature Elizabeth Shown Mills, CG, CGL, FASG, FNGS, FUGA, the author of such genealogical standards as Evidence Explained: Citing History Sources from Artifacts to Cyberspace and Professional Genealogy: A Manual for Researchers, Writers, Editors, Lecturers and Librarians as well as the historical novel, Isle of Canes, and over 500 journal and magazine articles related to family history. Ms. Mills is a past editor of the National Genealogical Society Quarterly and a regular speaker at the NGS conferences; many TV and radio appearances; president of the Board for Certification of Genealogists and the American Society of Genealogists; and instructor at Samford University Institute of Genealogy and Historical Research. Look for reservation forms to be available in the near future on the society website.

- 8 Mar 2008 - Olympia, WA

The Olympia Genealogical Society <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wasogs/>> with the Timberland Regional Libraries will hold a Beginning Genealogy Workshop at the Olympia Library branch.

- 3 Apr 2008 - Seattle, WA

Mac Genealogy Group <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~waseags/intgroups.html>> Salute! Our country has been at war almost every year since its inception, from informal fighting with the locals to full-scale world wars. Almost every male (and some females) used to enlist in the local militia and there are records to be found. Where should you look for your family's war records and how do you want to enter them in Reunion and other programs.

- 5 Apr 2008 - Langley, WA

The Genealogy Society of South Whidbey Island <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wagsswi/>> presents their Spring Seminar featuring Dr. Colleen Fitzpatrick, author of Forensic Genealogy and co-author of DNA and Genealogy. Dr. Fitzpatrick has been featured on NPR's Talk of the Nation radio program (July 2005), and has written cover articles for Internet Genealogy (June 2006), Family Tree Magazine (April 2006) and Family Chronicle (October 2005). She also writes a regular column for Ancestry magazine. The seminar will be held at the Useless Bay County Club from 8:00 to 4:30. Topics, brochure, driving information and reservation forms will be available soon on the society website.

- 11-12 April 2008 - Tukwila, WA

The CzechoSlovak Genealogical Society Int'l., <<http://www.cgsi.org/>> of St. Paul, Minnesota, has selected the Doubletree Guest Suites, Seattle Airport Southcenter, 16500 Southcenter Pkwy, (Tukwila) as site of their 2008 Genealogical and Cultural Symposium. Registration for the event is open to the public. Friday's events include a deluxe motor coach tour of the Seattle area. On Friday evening a dinner at the Doubletree will be highlighted by local and nationally known genealogist and author, Cyndi Howells, of Cyndi's List of Genealogy Sites on the Internet. Her talk is entitled, "The Internet Made Me an Expert on Everything." Saturday's program at the Doubletree offers 10 presentations over 5 one-hour time slots given by expert speakers in the fields of genealogy, history, language and folk art. The Symposium will be capped off late Saturday afternoon and evening with a tour to Tillicum Village on Blake Island State Park for their famous Indian salmon bake, native dance performance, and folk art demonstrations. For additional information on the 2008 Genealogy Symposium contact Paul Makousky at (651) 739-7543 or PaulMCzech@comcast.net or visit the CGSI website listed above.

- 1 May 2008 - Seattle, WA

Mac Genealogy Group <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~waseags/intgroups.html>> YOU FOUND THEM WHERE? ALL THOSE OTHER RECORDS. We'll discuss various sources, but we'll only have time to cover a few of the basics - like land records, courthouse records, church, school, historical society holdings, online libraries.

- 16-17 May 2008 - Mt. Vernon, WA

The Washington State Genealogical Society <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wasgs/>> will hold their 2008 Annual Conference and Business Meeting in Mt. Vernon, hosted by the Skagit Valley Genealogical Society. <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wasvgs/>> Featured speaker will be Sandra Hargreaves Luebking. Be sure to mark your calendars now, so you don't miss the date!

- 5 Jun 2008 - Olympia, WA

The Olympia Genealogical Society <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~wasogs/>> will present "The ABC's of DNA"

Congratulations to former OGS members George and Vila Narozonek!

They celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary 10 October 2007.

George and Vila were members of OGS from 1991-2 until 1994-5 when only Vila rejoined. Vila was a member from then until 1997-8 when she dropped out briefly. She rejoined us from 2002-3 to 2005-6.

THE GALLATIN AND ELIZABETH HARTSOCK PIONEER STORY
CHAMBERS PRAIRIE, WASHINGTON TERRITORY
1852 - 1853

Gallatin Hartsock was born October 1809, in Washington County, Pennsylvania. He was the son of Henry Hartsock Jr., grandson of Henry Hartsock Sr. and great-grandson of Conradt Hertzog who came from Germany in 1753. Somewhere along the line one of Gallatin's ancestors changed their surname Hertzog to Hartsock, hoping to sound more American. Numerous variations in the spelling of both Gallatin and Hartsock abound.

Information regarding Elizabeth Hartsock is sketchy and a little confusing. There is paperwork indicating Elizabeth's maiden name as Miller and some records indicating Nelson. There are ongoing questions regarding Elizabeth's birth and parentage. I have located one documented "Nelson" reference and a couple of undocumented "Nelson" references from different family lines. More than one family rumor suggests that Elizabeth may have been the illegitimate child of Lord Nelson and Lady Hamilton.

According to some, but not all records, Elizabeth was born in 1806 in Ohio. Confirming information on Elizabeth's birth has not been located. Gallatin and Elizabeth were married in October of 1829 in Wheeling, Virginia. This information was stated in their Donation Certificate which was signed by Gallatin but not by Elizabeth. Their children in birth order were:

India Ann Hartsock born 1831 in Indiana
Emma Hartsock born February 4, 1834 Belmont County, Ohio? or Iowa City, Iowa?
Mary Hartsock born 1844 in Iowa
Melvina Hartsock born 1848 in Iowa

The 1830 census records show Gallatin as living in Knox County, Ohio. Elizabeth was not listed.

The 1840 census records show Gallatin as living in Johnson County, Iowa. Elizabeth and two eldest daughters were not listed.

Gallatin was granted considerable acreage in Iowa through the General Land Office. He had just received two Iowa land patents. It appears that the recording for the two patents occurred in 1851 shortly before he came west. I do not know if he sold this land prior to traveling west or if he may have leased it. Why did Gallatin and Elizabeth commit to crossing the plains and starting over again? We can only speculate.

In the spring of 1852 the family set out from Iowa to travel west by foot and covered wagon. I located a reference that they may have been with the Jammie Party. However, I have yet to validate this information.

The Hartsocks and their four daughters arrived late fall of 1852 at The Dalles, and wintered over until late spring of 1853 when all except Emma traveled the Cowlitz Trail to Chambers Prairie, Washington Territory. Emma married in Portland and came to Olympia a year later.

In a book titled Early Schools of Washington Territory by Angie Burt Bowden, published in 1935, Angie states that Stephen D. Ruddell built a 16 x 20' school house just south of the Pioneer Cemetery in 1853. Among those early, dedicated pioneers helping in the school effort was Gallatin Hartsock. In addition to the physical effort, the Hartsocks subscribed an amount of $25.00 to the school.

Gallatin and Elizabeth immediately commenced the "settlement" of their tract of public lands on May 1, 1853 and continued until June 24, 1863 and beyond. In order to qualify for a Certificate of Donation they were required to live on the land continuously and maintain cultivation. They lived in a log cabin with an earthen floor until such time as they could put in a plank floor. An excerpt from the Tacoma Ledger follows: "To replace the former in time, perilous trips were made for lumber, with her father, Gallatin, across the treacherous ford (Nisqually River) and over the bluff to DeLins old mill on the present site of the Milwaukee and Tacoma Eastern Depot in Tacoma". This information was provided by Gwin Hicks, a Hartsock grandson, and appeared in the Tacoma Ledger on April 18, 1920.

Their Donation Certificate No. 656 became an official reality on December 14, 1876. It is interesting to note that married couples were granted 320 acres and individuals 160 acres. Gallatin received the west 160 acres and Elizabeth the east 160 acres.

Public land grants required American citizenship and proof of U.S. birth. Gallatin's records clearly state where and when he was born. However, there is no clear information for Elizabeth. By virtue of their marriage Elizabeth qualified. The Donation Certificate states that Gallatin arrived in Washington Territory on August 29, 1852.) Note: Paragraph 8 above states arrival date as late fall of 1852).

Some current, large landowners within the original Hartsock Donation Land Claim according to county records are:

- North Thurston School District No. 3 on College Street holds about 38.97 acres
- Christian Church of Gig Harbor holds some land and Lakes Elementary School on Mullin Rd. SE, Komachin Middle School on College St., and Timberline High School on Mullin Rd. SE are on Christian Church land
- American Legion – Dept. of Washington occupy 1.04 acres on Ruddell Rd.
- Hicks Lake Investments LLC hold 25.3 acres
- Timothy Bergman holds 19.7 undeveloped acres

Gallatin was a registered Whig. In 1854 Gallatin ran for a seat to represent Thurston County in the Washington Territory House of Representatives. He received 130 votes but not enough to win the seat. Had he served he would have done so during the term of Territorial Governor Isaac Stevens. This information is from a Washington State History Textbook (Copied in 1950).

Not only was Gallatin a farmer but he was also a millwright and a carpenter. He built one of Olympia's early homes in 1855 for his daughter Emma Hartsock Horton and her husband William N. Horton. The home was built at the corner of State Street and East Bay Drive. The lumber came from the old Tumwater Mill.

In the spring of 1858 word of discovered gold placer mines on the Fraser River reached Olympia. A party of four men including Gallatin and his son-in-law, Urban East Hicks decided to paddle an Indian canoe to the Fraser River. A humorous accounting of this trip written by Gwin Hicks was published in the Tacoma Weekly Ledger on May 19, 1893. After reading about this event, it appeared to me that Gallatin's lighter side was peeking through all the serious business and at the very least he probably enjoyed his time away from home. Gallatin did not get rich on gold.

On November 1, 1865, there were three entries of sale-cash records listed in Bureau of Land Management (BLM). One record was for 80 acres and the other two were for 40 acres each. The three records total 160 acres. The "patentee" doing the transfer was Gallatin. These records indicate that he was disposing of his 160 acres.

Early Thurston County land records indicate that Gallatin's land purchases and sales were considerable. Some of his 160 original donation land acres were divided among his daughters.

The 1870 Thurston County, Chambers Prairie census records finds Gallatin, Elizabeth and daughter Mary Rapjohn living in the family home. At this time Gallatin was 60 and Elizabeth 62.

Elizabeth died in June of 1894 and was buried in Pioneer Cemetery. Elizabeth left her east 120 acre interest in the donation claim to Gallatin and beyond Gallatin's life to support third daughter, Mary Hartsock Rapjohn, who at some point in life had become impaired. Elizabeth appointed daughter, Emma Hartsock Horton guardian for Mary.

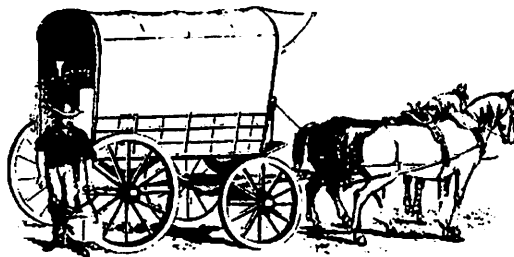

Gallatin died two years after Elizabeth's death in June 1896 and was also buried in Pioneer Cemetery. At the time of his death two daughters, Mrs. Urban Hicks and Mrs. Frederick Rapjohn were living at the family homestead.

Gallatin's obituary reads in part "Mr. Hartsock was held in high esteem by all with whom he came in contact in the daily transactions of life. He was a modest, unassuming disposition, and his friendships were of enduring character, such as not formed in a moment but when they are welded, it is for all time. His door was ever open to the belated travelers, and the old settlers have occasion to remember him for many acts of hospitality".

My maternal grandfather, Herbert Underwood, whom I had the privilege of knowing, spent his early childhood years living with the Hartsocks (about 1882-1888). This knowledge is a special Hartsock link for mom and me.

In The Nick of Time

by Diana Bargmann

Inspired by Pat Harper's recent President's Message column in the last quarterly finding her relative's home in Spokane still in situ, I thought I would share my experience with locating my grandparents' home.

Last year, in May and June of 2006, I made a trip back to West Virginia, as I have in 2002 and 2004, for the purpose of doing genealogy research. I spent the 2 weeks staying at my aunt's house in Volga, a spot on the highway barely big enough to be called a town. This aunt was my father's sister - she died in 2003 and since she and her husband were childless, the house was inherited by a nephew on her husband's side, who had been like a son to them. Currently he and his wife reside there and were gracious enough to put up with me and my crazy schedule - e.g. "Don't wait dinner for me - I may be following a hot lead and can't get home in time!" All I had to do each day was get up and get dressed, have breakfast, make my bed and zip out to my rental car and be gone for as long as I wanted, doing genealogy. After 2 weeks of all play and no work, I was one spoiled lady!

As my visit began drawing to a close, having wandered through courthouses, cemeteries and the like, I remembered to get some photos of the small town of Philippi, the seat of Barbour County, my research area. I had noticed a white 2-story home exactly kitty-corner from the courthouse commons. It was obviously being renovated - part of the siding was off. It was also obviously empty so I decided to go have a peek through the windows on the bottom floor, always having been enthralled by old houses. As I walked around the house having a good time observing the inside, I failed to notice that the police station was directly across the street (in another house) and that I was being observed by one of the officers there. That caused me to decide to call it a day. I found myself very tempted to take some photos of the place but then thought I should probably save my film for more "family pertinent" objects.

At dinner with my hosts that night, I happened to mention the house and they were surprised that I didn't already know that it had been lived in by my grandparents and their children at one time, including my father and my aunt in whose farmhouse I was currently residing. It was the last home that the family had stayed in before moving to California. And in fact the house directly across the street - the one now housing the police department - had been the home of my grandfather's sister and her family. I was excited to find out this piece of information and was curious to see if I could get to actually see the inside of the house in the time I had left.

Early the next morning - my last full day there - I began making phone calls to see if I could track down the owner. It turned out the house had been lived in for a long time by an elderly lady who gave it to her church in her will. The church then gave or sold it to the city who had sold it to a couple in Maryland who were renovating it for their retirement. My hopes of seeing the inside were dashed at that point but I went ahead and left a message on the Maryland couple's phone explaining who I was, my connection to the house, and a hope that maybe I might be able to see it on a future visit. Then I took off for a final day of running around - a last visit to a couple of cemeteries, a library in another county, etc. I finally rolled in close to dinner time at the end of the day only to have my relatives tell me the phone had been ringing off the hook for me all day. The couple from Maryland were apparently very excited that there was someone with an historical connection to the house, and had made arrangements for the woman's parents, who lived near Philippi, to come over and let me in. I was so wound up I could hardly eat dinner!

Returning to town that evening, I met an older gentleman at the white house. He shook his head and said he couldn't understand why his daughter and son-in-law had bought this dilapidated place. He looked at me as if he also wondered why I was so anxious to go inside, but unlocked the door and let me go inside by myself, after a few cautionary words about watching where I stepped. I soon found out what he meant.

To say that it was a scary experience to walk in this house would be an understatement. On the lower level, whole rooms slanted away from the center and from the huge gaping holes where rotten floorboards had been torn out, I could see the exposed beams that the house had been built on. Even a novice couldn't fail to notice that they were in very bad shape. I quickly adopted a method of never stepping on a floorboard without gingerly testing it before putting my full weight on it. It made for pretty slow going but it was the only way that made sense, and even then I still caught myself holding my breath as I stepped down. I took pictures as I went along as there were still many beautiful features within - the front door, the cupboards and mantelpieces, the stairs and banister. I also imagined my grandparents and their teen-aged family living here, and spoke out loud to them as I fancied them being pleased I was doing this. I think I also may have asked them to watch out for me as I wandered around inside!

I stood at the foot of the stairs wanting so much to go up but also picturing myself missing my flight home the next day because I was in the local hospital in traction. But possibly missing a one-time opportunity was too much so I cautiously made my way up the creaky stairs, imagining how many times my ancestors' hands had run up and down the banister as they lived their lives here.

Upstairs was even scarier than below - as I walked along, I could see the lower level through the cracks in the floorboards. I wondered if the owners had even thought about a liability issue if I'd gotten hurt here, but my experience had always been that people of West Virginia are more easy-going and don't have that "lawsuit mentality" that seems so prevalent here in the West.

It rapidly became apparent what had happened to this poor house. The previous elderly occupant had simply not used - or couldn't use - the second floor rooms anymore, and probably hadn't gone up there in years. My guess was she most likely only used part of the first floor for living quarters. In the meantime leaks had developed in the roof as evidenced by the long strips of moldy wallpaper hanging off the walls and giant water stains on the ceiling. Still I wandered around looking out the windows at scenery my father, aunts and grandparents must have seen through the seasons.

Afterward, outside, I rapidly took pictures as the sun was beginning to set and I was losing light. Later, back at my relatives' house, I spent my last evening going through some boxes of photos my aunt and uncle had kept for years in their barn, of all places! How the pictures survived the summer heat and humidity, and cold winters is beyond me! In the boxes, among the musty mouse droppings (!), I found several photos of the house in town, with the unique low wall that surrounded it, apparently an ideal place for people to sit and have their picture taken - including my aunt and uncle when they were courting.

I later sent some copies to the Maryland couple. This last summer on July 20-22, 2007, my husband and I hosted the Shaffer family reunion. As I went through family charts and photos for arranging on my bay window seats, I included pictures of the exterior and interior of the house, and noted information on the backs. Just a couple of days before the event, I received a letter from my relatives in West Virginia - the house had been razed just that week after the city condemned it. I probably own the last photos taken of it now, and I'm glad I found it in the nick of time.

CLAIM JUMPING PUBLIC MEETING

Transcribed and submitted

By Roger H. Newman

Public Meetings

Oregon City, May 14, 1847¹

Pursuant to a notice, which appeared in the Spectator of the 13th inst. for the purpose of obtaining an expression of public sentiment relative to trespass on land claims, a very numerous and respectable body of citizens of Clackamas with many from other counties, assembled at the City Hotel at half past seven o'clock, P. M.

On motion, a committee of five was appointed to draft a set of resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting --- G. L. Curry, Noyes Smith, Theo. Magruder, A. Hood and J. M. Wair, to be said committee, who after a short period presented the following preamble and resolutions: ---

(The preamble and resolutions will be found below.)

On motion, the report of the committee was accepted.

On motion, those present not citizens of Clackamas, were invited to take a part in the proceedings.

On motion, the above resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Rev. H. Johnson, R. Newell, of Champoege, J. K. Barlow, and W. Mulkey severally addressed the meeting.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed to obtain signatures to the above resolutions, viz: --- N. Smith, Theo. Magruder, A. Hood.

On motion of S. K. Barlow, a committee of five was appointed to select twelve, whose duty it shall be to investigate and adjudicate between disputing claimants, viz: ---S. K. Barlow, R. D. Torney, Thos. Magruder, Hugh Burns, R. Newell, to be said committee.

On motion, the committee were required to report at the next adjourned meeting.

On motion of N. Smith, resolved that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Spectator, and also that those now concerned in claim jumping be requested to desist from their present course.

On motion, resolved that this meeting adjourn to Wednesday evening, next, at half past seven o'clock, and that the Chairman invite P. H. Burnett, Esq. to attend and address the meeting on the present subject.

W. K. KILBURN, Chairman.

Fred'c Prigg, Secretary

1 Oregon Spectator, Oregon City, Oregon Territory, 27 May 1847, page 2, column 3 & 4.

Whereas the people of Oregon, since the settlement of the country, having lived together in peace and harmony --- respecting individual rights and maintaining the supremacy of the laws, we the citizens of Clackamas County, as a portion thereof, most sincerely regretting the occasion, feel ourselves called upon at this time to make a public expression of opinion concerning the disposition recently manifested to set at defiance the laws of the land, and to violate the good will and peace of the community by trespassing upon land claims; therefore

1. Resolved, That we regard any action calculated to prejudice the claim of any citizen who has complied with the laws, as tending to violate the good faith of community and deserving of the reprobation of every honorable man.

2. Resolved, That we view the spirit of the articles of compact as such, that though there should be a chance for evasion or subterfuge, that the object of them was to secure to every citizen under said compact, his private rights, not incompatible or incongruous with the rights of reservation of the U. S. Government, as such we view them, as such we hold them, and as such we will support them.

3. Resolved, That we shall look upon every man in any way connected with the movement now in progress, assailing the rights of citizens, as a disorganizer, whose conduct will weaken the golden bond of society and give occasion to mob law and violence.

4. Resolved, That we hold all persons who advise trespassers upon small points, relative to what they in their wisdom anticipate may be the future law regulating Land claims, as violaters of our Organic Law and equally guilty.

5. Resolved, That as an order loving and law abiding community, we discountenance all men who by their actions display a want of moral principle and an utter disregard of social obligation.

6. Resolved, That in view of the approximation of the Jurisdiction of the United States, we will stand by one another in maintaining the supremacy of the laws, placing confidence in the belief that that government will afford justice to all its citizens.

7. Resolved, That in espousing the principles contained in the above resolutions, we hereunto affix our names, pledging one another to stand by the issue and support our individual rights, whatever may be the consequence.

On motion of Mr. A. Priest,

Resolved, That we will not give our votes to any man for any public office who is in any manner, shape or form connected with claim jumping.

Pursuant to adjournment, at the hour appointed, the City Hotel was more numerously thronged than on the former occasion. The meeting being called to order by the chairman, the minutes of the last meeting were read.

On motion, the report of the committee for obtaining signatures, was accepted.

On motion, the citizens of other counties were invited to take part in the present proceedings.

On motion, P. H. Burnett Esq., was requested to address the meeting, who responded to the call in a happy and forcible address, which received an almost unanimous approval.

A. L. Lovejoy, A. J. Vickers, J. McLaughlin, A. A. Skinner, W. Mulkey, J. S. Rhinearson, J. L. Meek, J. Fleming, G. L. Curry, S. Parker, and Theo. Magruder, were severally called on and each in turn addressed the meeting.

On motion, the report of the committee of five to select twelve &c., was dispensed with and the officers of the meeting were empowered to call upon the citizens of Clackamas and the adjacent counties, whenever they may deem necessary.

On motion, the citizens of the other counties were solicited to co-operate with the intentions of the present meeting.

On motion, the proceedings of this meeting were ordered to be published in the Spectator, together with the names subscribed to the resolutions.

W. K. KILBORN, Chairman.

Fred'c Prigg, Secretary.

Don Wallace Carden

Don Wallace Carden, age 77, left us to be with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on September 28, 2007, his sons and grandson at his side.

He was born on August 10, 1930 in Olympia, Washington to Ansel Lester Carden and Hazel Adelia (Blackwell) Carden. He was the Great Grandson of James Blackwell and Charles Whipple, both pioneers to the Washington Territory. Don attended Olympia High School, Deitz Business College and Clover Park Vocational School. While serving in the United States Air Force from 1950 to 1954 he was married to Jean Williams and lived in Nebraska where his first two sons were born. Upon returning to Olympia he worked various jobs, primarily for the State of Washington, where he retired from the Department of Labor and Industries after 17 years. He also lived in Seattle and Tacoma for a brief period of time. He was a former member of the Young Democrats, Olympia Jaycees, Fraternal Order of Eagles, The American Legion and the Olympia Genealogical Society.

Don spent many hours researching his family history, proudly tracing some of his decedents from Virginia back to 1635 when they arrived here from England.

Don was quite the world traveler visiting all 50 states, South America, New Zealand, Asia and all of Europe, including Russia. His vast collection of post cards and memorabilia will be treasured for years to come.

Don was blessed with quite a sense of humor, always having a quick one-liner and could make about anyone laugh. He deeply loved his family and especially his sons, David Carden of Olympia, Byron Carden of Olympia, and Jeff Carden of Seattle. He shared a special and unique bond with his Grandson, Shawn Carden, who cared for him during the last years of his life. (Bless your heart Shawn!!) Don is also survived by his loving sister, Carol Shelton of Olympia, who will miss him dearly; 2 nieces, 1 nephew; great nieces and nephews; and many friends.

A graveside service will be held at Odd Fellows Memorial Park on Monday, October 8, 2007 at 11:00 a.m. Arrangements by Mills & Mills, Tumwater.

Don was a member of the Olympia Genealogical Society from 1985 to 1994, and from 1996 to 2002.

His obituary appeared in The Olympian, Saturday, 6 October 2007.

Elisabeth "Betty" Edna Williams

Betty, beloved mother, grandmother and friend, died peacefully at home at her beach place, December 9, 2007. A child of Washington's pioneer families, Betty was born in Seattle, March 26, 1915, and lived in the Puget Sound area nearly her entire life. She graduated from Stadium High School in Tacoma, University of Washington in 1937, and then attended Indiana University to obtain her Dietician's credentials. Betty married Wesley U. Williams, who she met at Mt. Rainier, in 1942. She worked as a dietitian in Seattle, Olympia, and Centralia hospitals and ran the Olympia Schools' lunch program in the 1960's. She was an active member of the Washington State Dietician Association for more than fifty years.

She loved to travel and after retiring, she and Wes traveled around much of the United States and extensively to other parts of the world. After Wes died in 1990, she continued traveling with friends and relatives to exotic places. Because of her encyclopedic knowledge of Washington State, she volunteered at the Washington State Visitor's Center at the Capitol in Olympia until she was 88.

She is survived by two sons, John (Lynn), and Greg (Julie); and grandchildren, Jennifer, Drew and Katherine, who will all dearly miss her.

A memorial service will be held at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, January 26, at First United Methodist Church, 1224 Legion Way SE, Olympia. Remembrances may be made to the Edna Enyart Kerr and Grace Enyart Langenbach Memorial Scholarship Fund at the University of Washington, Box 358240, Seattle, WA 98195.

Betty and her husband, Wes, were members of OGS from 1981-2 until his death in 1990. Betty remained a member until 2004-5. Betty was vice president in 1991-2, chaired the seminar in 1992-3, and was again vice president in 2001-2. She and Wes were in charge of the library card files in 1988-9 and probably other years. Her maiden name was Kerr, not mentioned in the obituary.

Betty's obituary appeared in The Olympian, Friday, 21 October 2007

Zilpha Lee Haycox

Clara Zilpha Lee was born to Oliver Lee and Ruth Hubbard Lee on October 23, 1911 in Tumwater, Washington. She graduated from Olympia High School in 1928 and married William Hedge Haycox on August 31, 1930. She was showered with love on her last days on this earth and passed away on December 21, 2007 surrounded by family.

Zilpha worked hard at the family farm in Olympia (1931 to 1945) and in the family business, Haycox U-Can-it and Locker Plant in Longview (1945 to 1970). She and Bill retired to the family "Bay Place" in Olympia in 1970. She was involved in the Episcopalian church both in Longview and Olympia (1970 to 1996) receiving a Bishop's Cross for her good works. In 1996, she moved to Skagit County to be near her youngest daughter, Lorna.

She enjoyed sewing, restoring antiques, building furniture, hooking rugs, gardening, genealogy, and travel. There was a definite bias toward pink in all of her artistic endeavors. She loved historical books and Sees chocolates. Zilpha left us with a marvelous legacy of creativity and many sweet memories to cherish.

Zilpha is survived by her sister, Lois (Jack) Beigh of Olympia; daughter-in-law, Mary Ann Haycox, of Lake Forest Park; daughters, Zilpha Haycox, of Portland, Oregon, Nancy (Harlan) Sachs, of Olympia; son, Lee (Mary) Haycox, of Redmond; daughter, Lorna (Dennis) Haycox Parent, of Mount Vernon; 14 grand children, and 17 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, William Hodge Haycox, Sr. on June 7, 1982; her eldest son, William H. Haycox, Jr. on November 25, 1985; and her sister, Lorna Lee Dye, on January 6, 2000.

There will be a memorial service for Zilpha on January 5, 2008 of the Bay View United Methodist Church at 1:00 p.m. with fellowship following at the Bay View Community Hall nearby the church. Donations in her name may be made to Heifer International; your local Habitat for Humanity affiliate; or Audubon.

You may share your thoughts and memories of Zilpha in the online guest book at: www.molesfuneralhomes.com

Zilpha was a charter member of OGS, became a Life member in 1998-9. Her name was removed from the membership list at her request in Sep 2004. She was chair of Surnames and Geographic Files in 1990..

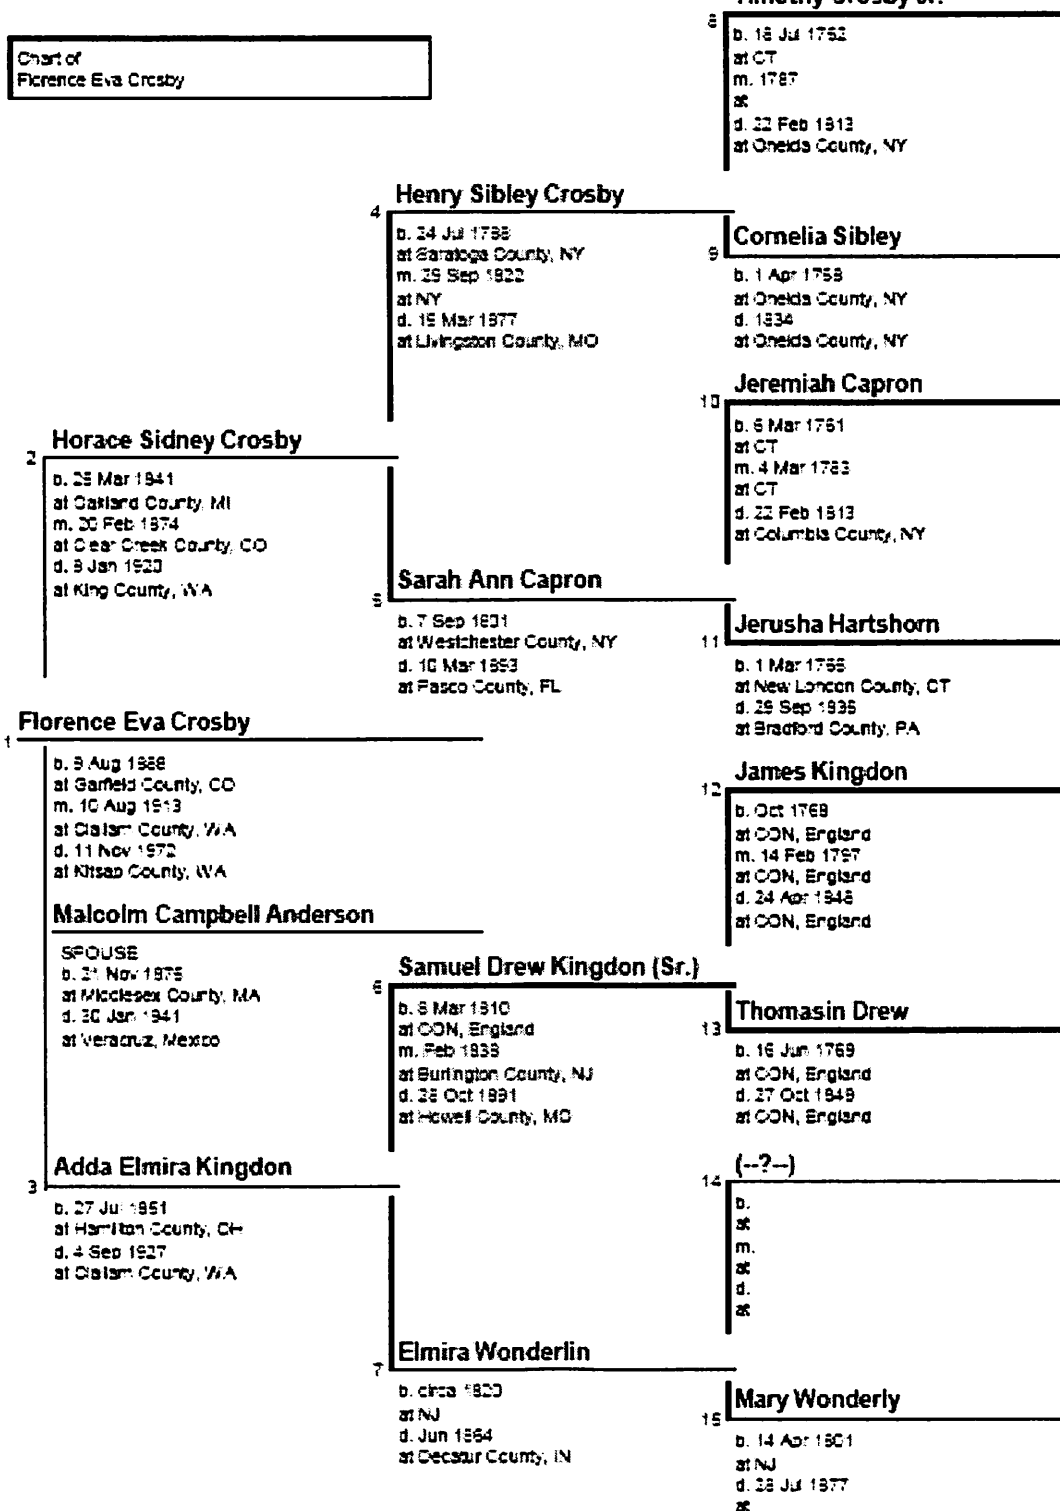

Her obituary was in The Olympian, Sunday, 30 Dec 2007

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

An Ahnentafel (or Ahnenreihe), also known as the Sosa-Stradonitz System, is a genealogical numbering system that allows one to list a person's ancestors in a particular order. It is a construct used in genealogy to display a person's ancestry compactly, without the need for a diagram such as a family tree, which is particularly useful in situations where one may be restricted to using plain text, for example in e-mails or newsgroup articles. The term Ahnentafel is a loan word from the German language, however its German equivalent is Ahnenliste. In German Ahnentafel means a genealogical chart showing the ancestors of one person in the form of a binary tree.

An Ahnentafel may also be called a Kekulé after Stephan Kekulé von Stradonitz, the genealogist and son of Friedrich August Kekulé.

The subject of the Ahnentafel is listed as #1, their father as #2 and their mother as #3, then their grandparents as #4 to #7, and so on back through the generations. In this scheme, any person's father has double that person's number, and a person's mother has double the person's number plus one. Apart from #1, who can be male or female, all even-numbered persons are male, and all odd-numbered persons are female. Using this knowledge, you can find out some things without having to compile a list.

Queries

This query was submitted as an email to the OGS email address, found on our website. Jerri McCoy forwarded it to the me (Quarterly editor). I'm printing it pretty much in its entirety, rather than shortening it to the usual query format.

ADAMS

Jonathan Pinkham ADAMS was born about 1830 and died in Oak Harbor WA in 1902. He was originally from Newcastle, Lincoln Co., ME; and owned schooners, the "Lottie" and the "Mary Parker" both build in Utsalady in 1868-1876. He was nearly 50 years when he married in 1878.

He was my great grandfather that supposedly came to Olympia about 1862 before he settled on Whidbey Island in 1870. He was a sea captain and sailed various vessels around the Puget Sound area. He was supposed to have gone to Olympia and been a hotel keeper or in the hotel business for a short period of time. To your knowledge are there any early city directories that might list his name? I am a member of the APG and do research at the NC archives in Raleigh. If someone needed work done here I would be willing to exchange work. I am interested in finding out if this family lore was true. I have done a lot of research on my own and also early family members have done research.

Contact: Nancy C. Reeves Raleigh, NC genealogync@yahoo.com

Need help writing Queries?

Here are excerpts from an article written several years ago by Ed Swan and B. J. Moe

Keep the query centered on 1 subject or one couple, that is, 1 or 2 surnames.

Give at least 1 DATE and 1 PLACE for each surname, or couple.

When possible, use known facts first, approximations second.

Write your query as if you were going to answer it! If you wouldn't answer what you have written, chances are no one else will either. What you want is information; your reader is also looking for information. If you give some facts, you show that you are working your line. Your facts will tell your reader that you know that; it may be just what he/she is looking for or it may be that they have information that fits before-or after- and by combining your information, you help each other along.

If after 6-8 months, you have had no response-and you have found nothing further you may want to resubmit it or rewrite it. Keep Trying!! The more exposure, the better chance of success.

Example:

WHO: Persis_, wife of Eleazer BLACKMAN, Daniel LADD

WHEN: 1745 - 1774

WHERE: Andover & Bolton CT

WHAT: Desire parents and birth date, place of Persis _____

QUERY:

Desire parents, birthplace, birthdate of Persis _____ m 1/Eleazer BLACKMAN buried Andover CT 1772 aged 22: m 2/Daniel LADD, 3 Nov 1774 recorded Bolton CT."

EXCHANGE NOTES

by

Jean Laws & Pat Philippsen

The publications mentioned are sent to our society in exchange for our Quarterly which is sent to them. They are filed alphabetically by state and county in the vertical files in the genealogical section of the Olympia Library. Some of them are eventually bound and placed with the bound periodicals in the genealogical section or in storage at the Montesano Library but can be ordered at the reference desk to be sent to your library for your use.

Nicknames	Chelan Valley G S Vol 17 # 3 Female and male nicknames are listed here. Some are obvious and other not so check this out if you are having trouble identifying or finding a record for an ancestor. We have a Madge and this list says it could be Margery so it's worth a try.
Humorous article on Wills	Greater Omaha Neb G S Sep 2007 Last Wills and Testaments for Dummies is a humorous but informative article on wills, with examples of a few unusual ones.
