OGS Speakers for April, May and June

By Connie Bailey

Last spring we enjoyed Dr. Godfrey Ellis and his Powerpoint presentation "Research in England." Godfrey returns on April 8 to show us major changes at the Family History Library in Salt Lake City. He will also address what's new on www.familysearch.org.

Harlan Pittelkau is a specialist on research in eastern Europe and is very knowledgeable on the history of that area. He will address OGS on May 13. His topic will be "Research in Poland, Prussia, and Switzerland."

On June 10th OGS celebrates its 30th anniversary! Rod Fleck, coming to us from Forks, WA, will speak to us on "Research in Germany." OGS Historians Marie and Jack Cameron are preparing a display for our pleasure, and special refreshments are being planned.

From the Ancestry Daily News "Quick Tips": The Birthday Book - Along with ideas of preserving the past, my grandmother gave one of the greatest gifts to each of her children when they married. She gave them a birthday book, where she had recorded the birthdays of everyone in the family. My mother continued to fill out the book, even adding her side of the family and death dates as they came along. This has been a blessing since I started my family research. I have a place to start with all my aunts, uncles, and cousins (except the youngest) written first in my grandmother's handwriting, then my mother's. These books used to be sold in fine stationery stores, but I have not seen one in many years now. A 365-day calendar, with ample space to write, would also work.

I was at the National Archives today and saw the following notice that might be of interest to people. NHP is proud to announce the release of Order Online. NARA's web-based capability that allows researchers to submit requests for copies of Fixed Fee Pension Application Files - Complete Military Pension Application files and Pension Documents Packets. Order Online can be accessed through the Research Room at www.archives.gov. Future releases of Order Online will feature the remaining Fixed Fee Orders (80's Series) and the ordering of microfilm publications and NARA merchandise. (This started 15 December 2003)

Arizona Releases Huge Birth and Death Certificate Archive. The State of Arizona's Department of Health Services, Arizona State Library, and the Mesa Family History Library have teamed up to provide a database of more than 400,000 images of birth certificates (between 1887 and 1928) and death certificates (between 1878 and 1953) at <http://genealogy.az.gov>. Search and retrieval are both free, though this site warns that these are not certified copies. Sarah A. V. Kirby on Librarians Serving Genealogists Mail List

Membership Updates

By Fran Anderson and Pat Harper

The new 2003-2004 Olympia Genealogical Society Membership Directories have been published. They will not be mailed to local members so you need to see Fran at the next general meeting. Send updates and corrections to franand@earthlink.net. This is a new email address for her and will need to be updated in the Membership directory

President's Message

Greetings,

WOW it is now mid-March and so much is happened it's hard to know where to start.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS. OGS has undertaken three Beginners Workshops this year, with more in the works. This due to the efforts of a cadre of OGS members including Jewell Dunn, Connie Bailey, Buzz Bailey, Ann Olson, Fran Anderson, and a "cast of thousands". Welcome to all our new members. I hope your membership in the Society will help your family tree grow and spring forth new branches.

GREAT MEETING SPEAKERS. A big thanks to Connie Bailey for lining up what should be some excellent meetings. The key role of the vice-president is to select and coordinate the monthly program. In my years with OGS - I can't recall a more diverse and interesting set than those coming this spring.

FINDING YOUR IRISH ROOTS. Our annual seminar is coming up in April. I just spent the day at the Irish Cottage Fair talking to loads of people about the event. I am really excited about our speaker, having Irish dancers at lunch, and having HQRL as the book vender at the event. At the April meeting, we will have the sign-up sheets for seminar volunteers, so help out if you can.

2005 & 2006 SEMINARS IN THE WORKS. The OGS is trying hard to get ahead of the curve and get a speaker reserved for next year - NOW. We have approached the well known author William Dollarhide to tentatively present a seminar on Migration Trails. BUT WAIT! We are also scoping out a potential application for the 2006 Washington State Genealogical Society seminar which would replace our spring seminar that year. Cross your fingers, things are still in the planning phase.

OGS FINANCES ARE ON TRACK. We just got last year's Audit Report from Robert McCoy. Thank you Robert. Our Treasurer, Ann Olson, should be very proud of the kind words said about her handling the books. There is a committee looking at the dues for next year. I hope they will have recommendation for the OGS Board in April, which would be announced at the regular meeting in May.

JUNE - ANNUAL MEETING & 30TH YEAR EVENTS. Please plan to attend our Annual Meeting in June. There will be special displays, and remembrances of the past 30 years of OGS which are being coordinated by Marie and Jack Cameron, our Historians. This is also when we will vote on the OGS officers for next year. I hope the Society might give me another year at the helm, as I think it takes that long to get the hang of things. BUT, guiding the Society requires a slate of officers. Give the Nominating Committee your suggestions for Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. Mark your calendar for a great June meeting.

Best wishes for your Spring,

Steven W Morrison, President

Simplified Genealogical Searches Using a Little Boolean Logic

by Ed Swan

One of the problems of making searches on search engines such as google, dogpile, or alltheweb is that you get too many hits. For example, I searched Google for Sarah Dyer, one of my lost ancestors. I received 141,000 hits. Why so many? To satisfy this search all that the search engine had to do was to find Sarah and Dyer on the same web page.

I'm certain that some of those were Sarah Dyer, the name, but how do I sort them out? The easiest way is to add quotation marks around the name "Sarah Dyer". This forced the search engine to look only for what is inside the quotation marks. That is Sarah and Dyer side by side. What did that get me? It narrowed down the Sarah Dyers down to 5,600 people named Sarah Dyer. That's a great help but not good enough.

The 5,600 people named Sarah Dyer could be living anyplace. I know Sarah Dyer married my 2nd great grandfather, Samuel Swan, in Franklin, Hancock Co., Maine. So I added Maine to my search, "Sarah Dyer" + Maine. This reduced the number to 211. Unfortunately, when I changed the query to "Sarah Dyer" + "Samuel Swan", the number of hits became zero.

Does it ever work to find the right people? You bet it does. Take my immigrant ancestor Richard Swan. Adding quotation marks and plus signs caused the same dramatic drop in number of hits. However this time when I add his 2nd wife to the query I got real results. "Richard Swan" + "Ann Trumble" gave me seven hits with two duplicate hits. My guess is that the duplicates came from updating a web page and failing to remove the earlier information.

I tried the above on only two search engines for this article but it worked great both times. Why two, that was all the time I had. Search engines have indexed three to four billion web pages. Sounds like a lot but I saw one estimate that there are probably a trillion web pages out there. Try at least the three I mentioned earlier: www.google.com; www.dogpile.com, and www.alltheweb.com . Check the Ancestry.com archives for articles on the subject or go to www.RootsWeb.com and do the same.

Pretty simple, Huh?

Good Hunting,

Ed

What We're Reading

From Connie Bailey -

Albion's Seed

By David Hackett Fischer

For those with antecedents from Great Britain, an interest in cultural history, and the physical strength to firmly grasp a 900 page tome, I highly re commend Albion's Seed. Its author, David Hackett Fischer, is a history professor at Brandeis University. He Explores the cultural origins of four distinctly different groups of English colonists, and demonstrates how their speech, architecture, gender attitudes, marriages and families, religion, cooking, dress, work, wealth and social rank, recreation, and other manners and mores were perpetuated in the emerging American culture.

With intensive investigation and thorough documentation, Dr. Fischer examines the Puritans of Massachusetts, the Cavaliers of Virginia, the Quakers of the Delaware Valley, and the Scotch-Irish. He demonstrates their remarkably unique life-styles in their original homes in East Anglia, the South of England, the North Midlands, and the borderlands. The book is well illustrated with maps, charts, pictures, and even pedigree charts. Despite its ponderous size and scholarly approach, the book is easy to read, and holds the reader's interest.

Published by the Oxford University Press in 1989, Albion's Seed received excellent reviews. It has been described as "one of the greatest works of American history," "incredibly interesting reading," "an important and brilliant study," and "a splendid achievement." To these I would add: a wonderful reference work for the serious genealogist. I felt a clearer connection with my English ancestors after reading it. I am no longer tempted to identify them as generically "English," but to appreciate their unique regional qualities and cultural contributions to our nation.

Measuring America

By Andro Linklater

One wonderful part of flying over the central United States is the view out the window. The land looks like a gigantic game board, neatly divided into squares. This book is in part a history of how that came to be.

The author, Andro Linklater, a Scottish historian and journalist said "Like most visitors to the United States, it was the shape of the place I first fell in love with — the spectacular grid of city blocks, the squared-off, American Gothic farms, and the long, straight, section roads that caught the imagination of Kerouac and every drive-movie director you can think of. During the time I lived there, I never questioned why this should be so, it simply seemed American. Since then, however, I have returned frequently as a visitor and each time I came back, it always struck me as utterly astonishing that such a coherent pattern could have occurred across a 3000 mile-wide continent. How did it happen? Who shaped this gigantic land? Measuring America is my attempt to answer those questions."

The tool that did the job? A device called Gunter's chain designed by Welchman Edmund Gunter in the early 1600's. The beauty of this chain was the ease with which it was possible to measure and subdivide an acre of ground. George Washington undoubtedly carried Gunter's chain over his shoulder when he set off to survey in Virginia.

At the time that the Northwest Territory was finally established sale of these unpopulated lands was America's only means of reducing the massive debts piled up during the Revolutionary War. Jefferson proposed that a government survey be made of the new lands, employing Gunter's chain to mark off a grid of 640 acre parcels. This measuring process continued with each new acquisition of territory. The surveyors didn't stop until they reached the Pacific Ocean. This turned out to be a massive undertaking involving billions of acres and a century of time. And the settlers followed right behind surveyors buying pieces of the grid. A 40 acre plot of land could be had for as little as $1 an acre by one of Jefferson's "republican farmers"

Since the land could be measured it could be bought and sold like other commodities so land speculation is another part of this story. The land speculators were often ahead of the settlers in the acquisition of property. Early on they bought up millions of acres of land grants from Revolutionary War veterans for pennies on the dollar. An understanding of the politics and geography of the selling of the western United States is useful in understanding where and when and why our ancestors moved west.

Two bonuses:

First - the story of Joseph Dombey and how the metric system missed coming to America.

Second - a reminder to reread The Witness Tree, a book of Robert Frost's poems about the relationship between men and the country they live in. One of the poems from the collection The Gift Outright was read by Frost at President John F. Kennedy's inauguration in 1961. It begins -

*The land was ours before we were the land's.
She was our land more than a hundred years
Before we were her people. She was ours
In Massachusetts, in Virginia*

This is the quote with which Mr. Linklater finished the book..

New Genealogy Books At the Olympia Timberland Library

By Pat Harper

The following is a list of books that have just been added to the Genealogy section at the Olympia Library. Many were donated by OGS members and/or their families.

All of the genealogy books have now been moved to the newly assigned space, and are on both sides of the those shelves, but because of the way the shifting was done there are still some empty shelves in odd places. This will be remedied soon. If you have any questions, the Olympia Library information/reference staff will be glad to help.

EXCHANGE NOTES

by
Jean Laws

The publications mentioned are sent to our society in exchange for our Quarterly which is sent to them. They are filed alphabetically by state and county in the vertical files in the genealogy section of the Olympia Library. Some of them are eventually bound and placed with the bound periodicals in the genealogy section or in storage at the Montesano Library but can be ordered at the reference desk to be sent to your library for your use

- TODAY'S WOODMEN Federation of Genealogical Societies Forum, Fall 2003. A ton of information packed into 40 pages--something for everyone! In this issue "My Papa Was a Woodsman" about the Modern Woodmen of America, and Ancestral Accounting: a New System for numbering generations.
Winter 2003 of the same has From a Distance: Researching in the Show Me State, book and CD Rom reviews and much more
- ELLENSBURG EXCERPTS Kittitas Kinfolk, Jan 2004. Excerpts from An Illustrated History of Klickitat, Yakima and Kittitas counties 1904 and The Ellensburg Localizer 1890.
- GOLD IN THOSE HILLS Black Hills Nuggets Rapid City SD, Feb 2004. Research in the Black Hills and many old records of the area.
- ALABAMA PIONEERS Natchez Trace Newsletter Feb 2004. If you have ancestors who lived in Northwest Alabama from 1817 to 1829 you can join the Nation-Builders of Northwest Alabama. A good way to preserve your family history is to get a certificate from an area offering one as they will be on file for others.
- HOUSES IN SPACE So King County News Mar/Apr 2004 A good article is Maybe Your Ancestor Made the Newspaper. Also, would you like to find your house from space? Go to <http://terraserwer.microsoft.com/address.aspx>. Enter an address and view it in Urban areas, Aerial Photo and Topo map.
- WILL CODICIL Muskingum, Zanesville OH, Mar 2004. Several societies lately have given an example of a codicil for a will that will give instructions for disposal of your genealogical material. This issue and the So King Co for Apr 2004 have good ones.
- PARKE DNA Parke Society Newsletter Vol 40 #2 2003. If you have a Park/e ancestor check out this issue. A fascinating account of using DNA to prove a Parke lineage and disprove a family myth.

- PALOUSE NEWS Whitman Co WA Genealogical Society Jan 2004. The Ray Chatters Print Museum in Palouse Wash has some old Whitman Co newspapers with a list of what they own in this issue. Feb 2004 Some grave stone symbols and meanings. You can go to www.savinggraves.com to see a complete list of these.
- NEW LIBRARY IN YAKIMA Yakima Valley Genealogical Society Dec 2003 Lots of news about their new genealogical library which will be at 12th and Washington. Also a list of new books for the library..
- PAST TIMES IN OREGON Willamette Valley Genealogical Society Dec 2003. Excerpts from the Oregon Statesman Newspaper Salem Or 1896. If you are researching this area you'll be happy to know we exchanged several of our publications for theirs. Ours will be placed in the Oregon State Library. Mar 2004. Some fascinating articles on the past from various Oregon newspapers and various dates.
- WHERE'S NAPOLEON'S GRAVE? Fiske Genealogical Foundation Newsletter Seattle WA, Dec 2003. Think there's no connection between Emporer Napoleon I and the Fiske Library? Read this story and find out about the "genealogy" tree from Napoleon's grave to the Fiske library grounds.
- BLANTON DNA Kern Co CA Genealogical Society Sep 2003. A long article on the Blanton family DNA analyses, carried out to sort out the various family lines with some success. If you ever consider doing that, read this first
- AFRICAN AMERICANS AND THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION Seattle Genealogical Society, Winter 2004. Beginning a new series on the contribution of the African Americans to the American Revolution by a SGS member and another about two Rev War ancestors, Thomas Stanton and Jonathan Wait.
- PALOUSE PIONEERS Tacoma Pierce Co Genealogical Society, Winter 2004. Pioneering in the Palouse country by a pioneer George T. Miller written in the '30's. Also Digging Up Dirt American Land Records and the "Good old days" in the 1500's.
- REMEMBER PERSI Clark Co WA Genealogical Society Winter 2004. You say you don't read the genealogical periodicals in our library.? You're missing a lot. Clark Co emphasizes their value and use and urges you to view all periodicals available to you and the indexes to them like PERSI. I say amen to that.
- ELK CITY WAGON ROAD Idaho Genealogical Society, Winter 2003. Several articles from Idaho genealogists and historians. The Limbaughs in the Pacific NW 1907-1922. Elk City Wagon Road and Sites, Idaho and the first Pugmire family reunion.
