In Memory Of
JENE EARL MILLS
1 Aug 1998

Col. Jene E. Mills

Col. Jene Earl Mills, 84, an Olympia resident for 30 years, died Saturday, Aug. 1, 1998, of heart failure, at Mother Joseph Care Center, Olympia.

He was born Oct. 3, 1913, to John and Ella (Christensen) Mills, in Ridgefield. He graduated from Sandy High School in Sandy, Ore., in 1934. He graduated with honors from Oregon State University in 1938, receiving a bachelor of science degree in forestry. He was also enrolled in the college ROTC program, where he was appointed cadet colonel in command of the entire student ROTC program. Upon graduation, he was awarded a commission as a 2nd lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

Col. Mills married Frances Mary (Boylan) Mills on March 10, 1942, in Fort Lewis.

He joined the active Army in 1939, when he was awarded a commission as a 2nd lieutenant. During World War II, he was selected to attend the British Royal Staff College. After graduating, he was assigned to Gen. Eisenhower's staff at the Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force. While serving there, he had the distinction of drafting the message that Gen. Eisenhower sent announcing the unconditional surrender by representatives of the German army. During his career he saw active service in World War II, the Korean War and Vietnam. His military decorations include The Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster; The Army

Commendation Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters; the French Croix de Guerre with palm; the Belgian Croix de Guerre; and the United States Army General Staff Identification Badge. He was discharged in 1967.

Col. Mills was a training officer for Washington State Highway Department from 1967 to 1975.

He was a member of Delta Chi social fraternity; the Olympia chapter of the Retired Officer's Association; a perpetual member of the Tacoma chapter; Military Order of the World Wars; Tumwater chapter of the American Legion Post No. 0166; Friends of the Fort Lewis Museum; and the Olympia chapter of the National Genealogical Society.

Col. Mills is survived by his wife, Frances, Olympia; a daughter, Jean Rickey, Mill Creek; a brother, Emmitt Mills, Portland; two sisters, Margaret Christensen, Waianae, Hawaii, and Mae Dusek, Stanwood; two grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Visitation is from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 4, at Mills & Mills Funeral Home, Olympia. A funeral Mass will be Wednesday, Aug. 5, at St. Michael Catholic Church, with the time to be announced. Interment will follow the service, at Tahoma National Cemetery, Kent.

The family suggests memorial donations be made to St. Michael Church, Olympia.

Arrangements are by Mills & Mills Funeral Directors, Olympia.

We were saddened by the death of our member Jene Mills, and we extend our sympathies to his wife and family. Memorials in Jene's name may be sent to our society at the regular address. A book of genealogical interest will be placed in the library as our remembrance to him.

Marking Time

Thurston County Historical Markers and Sites

By Shanna B. Stevenson, Thurston County Historic Commission

Historical markers erected throughout the years by various groups to commemorate persons or events of local historical importance present a valuable resource and recognize in a special way our unique heritage.

Listed here are markers throughout Thurston County which show in a tangible way the passing of time and are short detours along the road of history. The large number of markers in the county point up the rich history of the area and the pivotal events which have occurred here.

We owe a debt to the Washington State Historical Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution and other groups who have built the markers so that those that follow can appreciate their special way of marking time.

The markers are divided into five sections: Lacey, Olympia, Tumwater, the State Capitol Campus, and Rural Thurston County.

(Ed: This article was compiled from a 1994 inventory by the Historic Commission, and a few items were added from a 1983 listing also done by Shana Stevenson. Printed with permission of the author.)

Lacey

Ruddell Cemetery

Location: Ruddell Cemetery at Mullen and Ruddell Roads

Inscription: (front) This tablet contributed by the Washington State Historical Society commemorates the spot where are buried many of the first settlers of Thurston County and commends the worthy pioneer who set aside from the acres of his original this lot as a free burial lot for his neighbors and their descendants. W.R. Bonney, Secretary (back) Rededicated 1976. Rebuilt with donated funds. Ruddell Pioneer Cemetery Association. This is an endowment care property.

History: Marker installed in 1917, and rededicated in 1977.

Ruddell Cemetery - Hick's Marker #1

Location: Ruddell Cemetery at Mullen and Ruddell Roads

Inscription: In memory of his ancestors and with a decent regard for the preservation of their last resting place the undersigned has erected this fence as a barrier between the irreverent few and the revered ground enclosed, and calls upon his posterity and the succeeding generations to respect the bones of the first white inhabitants of this countryside.

History: Marker installed in 1917 by Gwin Hicks.

Ruddell Cemetery - Hick's Marker #2

Location: Ruddell Cemetery, Mullen and Ruddell Roads

Inscription: I. Beneath this virgin soil and forest shade/where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heat/
Each in his narrow cell for ever laid/The brave forefathers of this township sleep.
II. Perchance in this sequestered spot in laid/Some heart once glowing with ambitious fire/
Hands, that the rod of Empire might have sway'd/Or wak'd to ecstasy a King's desire.

- III. Oft did the harvest to their sickle yield/Their furrow oft the stub born glebe has broke/
And joyously they drove their team afield/Or fell'd the woods beneath their sturdy stroke.
- IV. For them no more the blazing hearth shall burn/Or busy housewife ply her evening care/
No children run to lisp the sire's return/Or climb his knee the envied kiss to share.
- V. For them has rung the knell of parting day/No more their lowing herds wind o'er the lea/
Their plowman home has plod his weary way/And left the world to others and to thee.
- VI. And e'er their bones from insult to protect/This gate memorial erected nigh/
With borrowed rhymes in sculptured bronze bedeck'd/Implores the passing tribute of a sigh.

History: Marker installed in 1917 by Gwin Hicks.

St. Martin's College

Location: Pacific Avenue, in Lacey

Inscription: (no marker)

History: St. Martin's College was founded in 1895 by Benedictine Monks to further the Christian and scholarly education of the pioneers.

The Ulery House

Location: At the Albertson's store, to the right of the entrance, 6100 Pacific Avenue SE

Inscription: Natives of Ohio, William F. Ulery (1862-1944) and his wife Mary Elizabeth Schockey (1862-1956) move to Lacey in 1919. A "jack of all trade," W.F. Ulery was a taxidermist and raised pigeons and pet skunks among other businesses. He was also a carpenter. Ulery built his house on this site in 1923 in his own design. The craftsman style house, one of the best examples in Lacey, had a distinctive porch built of cobblestones which Ulery hauled by horse and wagon to the site. The porch had "The Home of Mr & Mrs W.F. Ulery" worked in mosaic on the cobble stones. Like many Lacey residents, the Ulery's had a small subsistence farm around the house. Their son, N.M. Ulery, later lived in the home.

History: Installed in 1992 by the City of Lacey and Albertson's.

Woodland Driving Park

Location: Clearbrook and Yonkers Drive

Inscription: Clearbrook - On this site once stood a racetrack alternately known as Woodland Park or Clearbrook, in its time, one of the premier sulky horse racing facilities in the West. The inspiration of Isaac C. Ellis, the racetrack dominated the life of early Lacey. A three story hotel, also owned by Ellis, was near Woodland Park, and housed the hundreds of spectators who descended on Lacey to watch the sport. Clearbrook was reputed to be the first mile-long track west of Kentucky. The track's surface was exceptional because of its sand-like consistency, which made it very water absorbent, and therefore, with the absence of puddles and mud, very fast. Stables for 110 horses adjoined the track. The hey-day of Lacey's racetrack ended in 1909 when betting on horse racing, not racing itself, was made illegal. Without the attraction of gambling, the track and hotel went into a period of decline from which they never recovered. The hotel burned in 1937. With the return of para-mutuel betting in 1933, Longacres, near Renton, emerged as the leading track in Western Washington, relegating Clearbrook to memory and the casual rider.

History: Marker installed in 1983 by the Harkey Company in conjunction with the Lacey Historical Commission.

Olympia

Clara Barton Memorial

Location: In front of the old Thurston County Courthouse, at Capitol Way and 11th

Inscription: In memory of Clara Barton by the National Women's Relief Corps Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic

Steele House

Location: 1010 S Franklin

Inscription: (unmarked State Historic Register property)

Sylvester Park Marker

Location: The gazebo at Sylvester Park, on Capitol Way between Legion and 7th

Inscription: Sylvester Park and the Old State Capitol

History: Olympia's town square has been the community's heart from the earliest days of American settlement. Planned by Edmund Sylvester in his 1850 plat of the city, the Park's resemblance to a New England town common is probably explained by Sylvester's roots in the State of Maine. Like other town commons, the park was used at first as a public pasture. In 1855, a blockhouse in the park was refuge for the town's residents during the Indian uprisings. It has since been used for numerous celebrations and hosted such dignitaries as William Jennings Bryant, Theodore Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman. The present gazebo was built in 1976, replacing one razed in 1928. The stone building to the east was built as the Thurston County Courthouse in 1892. Weary of the financial burden, the County sold its splendid courthouse in 1901 to the State of Washington. The building, enlarged by a sizeable addition in the rear, served as the State Capitol until 1928. Despite the loss of its clocktower to fire, it is a fine example of Richardsonian Romanesque architecture - a style characterized by broad arches and rough-faced cut stone. Marker is enameled metal with photos.

Thurston County Courthouse

Location: Capitol Way

Inscription: (unmarked National Historic Register property)

U.S. Post Office

Location: 801 Capitol Way

History: Built in 1893 by William H. White, a carpenter and lumberman, the house is an outstanding example of Queen Anne and Eastlake architectural styles with intricate fretwork, a turret and ornate bargeboards. Placed on the State Register of Historic Places in 1977, it stands in an area of Olympia once known as Swantown.

Women's Club Marker

Location: 1002 S Washington St, next to entrance door

Inscription: Registered National Historic Place Washington State Advisory Council on Historic Preservation Women's Club of Olympia - Under the provisions of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, this property possesses exceptional value in illustrating American history and culture. Entered in the National Register of Historic Places, June 15, 1979. By the US Dept. of the Interior. Dixie Lee Ray, Governor Washington State. Office of Archaeology and Historical Preservation.

History: Built in 1908, the clubhouse is home of the Olympia Women's Club, founded in 1883 and one of the oldest women-only clubs on the West Coast.

Edwin Howard Wright Memorial

Location: 505 Adams St

History: The Salvation Army Building, dedicated to Wright in 1952.

Inscription: The time capsule is preserved for future generations of Washingtonians. In 2389 its contents shall be opened. This safe is under the guardianship of the keepers of the time capsule who are entrusted with ensuring that its contents safely navigate the centuries.

History: Marker placed in 1989 by the Washington Centennial Commission.

Totem Pole

Location: Capitol Campus lawn in front of the GA Building

Inscription: The pole was carved by William Shelton of the Snohomish Tribe - Tulalip. Presented to the State of Washington Congress of Parent-Teachers sponsored by Snohomish County Parent-Teachers Association. Purchased through contributions of school children. This plaque made by the vocational department, senior high school, Everett, Washington. 1940

History: Carved by Chief William Shelton of the Snohomish tribe from a single cedar tree in the 1930s, the 71 foot tall totem pole is designed in the Salish tradition of an interior house post of the ceremonial longhouse. It provides a collection of carvings seen before this time only on pillars of the large council halls of the Salish tribes. The symbols are mainly legendary birds and animals, spirit power symbols of the Salish people.

Vietnam POW/MIA Memorial

Location: Capitol Campus, by the circle on the fountain walkway

Inscription: In gratitude to those who sacrificed their freedom in the service of our country, we, the citizens of the State of Washington, dedicate this monument to honor all former American prisoners of war, those still missing, and those Americans who may still be held prisoner.

History: Marker installed Sept 16, 1988. This marker was originally worded in honor of the 1001 Washingtonians who lost their lives in the Vietnam War. It was converted to a POW/MIA monument as plans for the new Vietnam memorial were being drawn.

Vietnam Veterans' Memorial

Location: East of the Insurance Building on the Capitol Campus

Inscription: (this memorial lists the names of all those who were killed or are missing in action in Southeast Asia. Reading from right to left, the names are listed in the order that they were taken, the first being in 1963 and the last in 1975. A small cross is engraved next to the names of those who remain missing in action.)

History: Marker installed in 1987 by donations from individuals, private corporations, civic organizations, foundations and unions. Designed by Kris Snider, from Seattle. While it is a special tribute to those who lost their lives or remain missing from the conflict in Southeast Asia, it is dedicated to the courage, sacrifice and devotion to duty and country of all those from Washington state who served in the war. The site of the memorial was selected because of its quiet solitude and its proximity to the WWI Memorial. The design is symbolic in many ways: the circular wall represents the circle of life; the undulating top of the wall signifies both the highs and lows of life as well as the hills and mountains of Washington state; the one break in the circle - a carved cutout in the shape of North and South Vietnam - symbolizes the break in the circle of life caused by the war.

Washington Elms

Location: On the Capitol Campus grounds adjacent to 11th Ave, opposite the GA Building parking garage. The location of the plaque is unknown. Placed 18 Feb 1932 by Sacajawea Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution and the University of Washington. (No longer in existence. The trees were damaged during a winter storm in 1996.)

History: Two elms, one the scion of the other which was damaged in the Columbus Day storm of 1962, stood as memorials to the Washington Elm at Cambridge, Massachusetts, where George Washington took command of the American Army in 1775. After Washington was elected first president the elm became a celebrated attraction. In 1896, a University of Washington alumnus doing graduate study in Cambridge obtained a rooted cutting of the famous elm, which was sent to Professor Edmund Meany at the U.W. This rooted cutting was planted and from it other cuttings were taken. The oldest of the two trees on the Capitol Campus was one such cutting, planted February 18, 1932, the 200th anniversary of George Washington's birth. The smaller tree was planted from a 1979 cutting. Washington State lacks native elms.

Marcus Whitman Statue

Location: North entrance to the Legislative Building, on the second floor

Inscription: "My plan requires time and distance." Marcus Whitman
Citizens of the State of Washington express their gratitude to this pioneer and medical missionary.

History: Marker installed in 1980 by the Mother Joseph Foundation. Sculpted by Avard Fairbanks, this 4'x4'x10' bronze statue is a replica of Washington's representative to Statuary Hall, Washington, DC. It shows Marcus Whitman, first graduate of an American medical school to practice west of the Rockies, and leader of the first wagon train over what was to become the Oregon Trail. He and his wife settled at Waiilatpu in eastern Washington in 1836 to minister to the Indians. They met their death at the mission in 1847.

World War I Memorial

Location: Near the Insurance Building on the Capitol Campus, in the circular drive-around.

Inscription: (north side) In memory of citizens of the State of Washington who lost their lives in the service of the United States during the World War 1917-1918.

(east side) Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend.

(west side) Their sacrifice was to vindicate the principles of peace and justice in the life of the world.

(south side) They fought to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principle of justice, freedom and democracy.

History: Marker installed in 1938. The heroic monument has three larger than life fighting men and a Red Cross nurse under the protective care of a winged victory figure. Designed by Victor Alonzo Lewis in 1938 to honor Washington veterans.

This stone erected by Washington State Historical Society, 1922.

History: The bronze tablet, unveiled 14 June 1922, by Sacajawea Chapter DAR, was placed on a Douglas fir tree known as "Treaty Tree" because it was witness to the Medicine Creek Treaty between Gov. Isaac Stevens and the Southern Puget Sound Indians in 1854, defining Indian fishing rights. The Fox Island Council in 1856 granted more generous terms to the Indians. The Treaty Tree is now gone; the missing plaque was inscribed: Site of the Medicine Creek treaty between Governor Isaac I. Stevens and the Indians of the Puget Sound basin, 1854. Marked by Sacajawea Chapter, DAR, 1922.

Steamboat Island Bridge Marker

Location: On right side of road after crossing the bridge to Steamboat Island. Mounted on a concrete pier.

Inscription: Steamboat Island Bridge. Dedicated to J.L. "Skip" Trethway. 1982.

Tenino Depot

Location: Tenino

Inscription: Marker #1:

Registered National Historic Place, Washington State Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. Tenino Depot. Under the provisions of the National Historic Preservation Act of October 16, 1966, this property possesses exceptional value in commemorating or illustrating American history. Placed on the National Register on December 27, 1974 by the National Parks Service. US Department of Interior, Washington State Parks and Recreation Committee.

Marker #2 (on ground to right of doorway)

Louis Quityamals. Indian Louie.

History: The depot, now used for the Tenino Museum, was built in 1914 of native sandstone. It was moved to its present location in 1975. Regarding Louis Quityamals, it is believed that he was an early resident of the Tenino area. Marker #1 installed Dec. 27, 1974.

Tenino Quarry Pool

Location: The pool is located at the old Tenino sandstone quarry, on Park Avenue, next door to the Tenino Depot Museum.

Inscription: Tenino Quarry Pool. In honor of the countless hours of dedicated service to the Tenino Community in the re-opening of the Tenino Quarry Pool, the Tenino Town Council commends the following: Tenino Task Force, Community Organizations, and the many individual volunteers. Rededicated June 24, 1989.

History: The placard is located at the tip of a long, narrow flower bed, apparently Memorial Garden. A placard in the garden reads, "Memorial Garden - Landscaped by Lakeside Gardenaires." Marker installed 1989 by the Tenino City Council.

Tenino Veterans' Memorial

Location: The Veterans' Memorial is located within the fenced-in quarry pool area.

Inscription: Tenino swimming pool. 1946. Memorial to Veterans of Tenino and vicinity.

History: The memorial is located in the middle of a long, narrow flower bed, apparently Memorial Garden, and is marked with a placard that reads, "Memorial Garden - Landscaped by Lakeside Gardenaires." Marker installed 1946 by the Tenino Lion's Club.

Timberline High School She-Nah-Nam Time Capsule

Location: On top of the hill above the Nisqually Valley, NE of I-5.

Inscription: Medicine Creek Treaty 1854. Time Capsule Inside. Open July 4, 2076.

History: Marker installed July 4, 1976 by students from the Timberline High School. The monument overlooks the Medicine Creek Treaty Tree, under which the treaty of the same name was signed in 1854 by Gov. Isaac Stevens and leaders of the Nisqually Indian Tribe. The marker symbolizes several different ideas. The round, steel float, donated by the US Navy, symbolizes the spherical thinking of the Native American. The rail, donated by Burlington Northern Railroad, is symbolic of the linear thinking of the white people. When viewed from above, the monument forms the Peace Symbol, and the shape of an arrowhead which points to the tree. Since it was also designed as a time capsule, several items were placed inside: a letter to the openers; a copy of the "Lacey Leader" newspaper; an edition of "The Daily Olympian"; the "Washington State Highway News"; and an edition of the "Timberline Blazer". The purpose of the monument is to show peaceful cooperation between whites and Native Americans, and help resolve differences between them.

Willamette Meridian Marker

Location: Just east of Meridian Road, on the north side of Yelm Hwy.

Inscription: Willamette Meridian. You are standing on the Willamette Meridian, which is the principle survey line from which the rectangular surveys of Washington State were commenced. William Ives, deputy surveyor, commenced the survey of the Willamette Meridian from the initial point near Portland Oregon on June 4, 1851, passing this point on August 14, 1851. He and his crew of 5 men surveyed the 110 miles from Portland to a point on Puget Sound 8 miles north of this point in 74 days, marking trees every half mile. Many of these markings may be found to this day. Dedicated by the Land Surveyors Association of Washington on November 11, 1989, in commemoration of the Washington Centennial.

William Frazer Tolmie Marker

Location: At the entrance/parking area for Tolmie State Park, on Entry Drive. The kiosk in which the marker is located is on the main road as it turns into the parking area.

Inscription: Dr. William Fraser Tolmie (1812-1866) spent 16 years with the Hudson's Bay Company at Fort Nisqually as physician, surgeon, botanist, and fur trader. Dr. Tolmie made careful study of the languages of the Northwest people. This proved useful both in trading and in his medical work among the Indians. During the Indian Wars of 1855-56 his ability to communicate directly with the Indians was of help in bringing about peace. He was the first to attempt the ascent of Mount Rainier and made observations of plants, animals, and glaciers. Dr. Tolmie wrote of the Nisqually area: "When tired of the shady wood you could emerge into the boundless prairie to which any nobleman's park cannot be compared either in size, beauty or magnificence."

History: Marker installed by Washington State Parks.

*Cemetery Records
of Thurston County, Washington*

More than 24,500 names from 21 cemeteries are listed alphabetically in three soft cover, comb-bound volumes. Each listing includes the name, date of birth, date of death and any other information on the headstone. The information for all 21 cemeteries is presented in one alphabetical listing. This eliminates the need for an index and for researchers to review every cemetery when searching for an internment in Thurston County. Each volume includes a brief description and/or history of each cemetery.

EXCHANGE NOTES

By Toni Gorss

GRAVE CRIMES - CEMETERY LOOTING SPREADING

Driven by a thriving market for garden statues and the popularity of angels, cemetery art looting is spreading. Thieves are able to steal such and sell them quickly in the antiques market. Once these thefts were concentrated in the Northeast, but they have now migrated to the South and West.... Officials in Texas have begun compiling a photographic record of the state's 50,000 historic cemeteries...these cemeteries are rapidly losing urns, statues, sun dials, stained glass, gates and fencing. (THE CLAN DIGGER, Pacific Co WA Gen Society, April 1997, from ART & ANTIQUES MAGAZINE, Feb 1997.)

BOGUS BARONIES SCAM IN ENGLAND AND IRELAND

An article written by Kenneth Nicholls, "Media Taken in by Bogus Baronies," relates that in the last few years, there has been an extension of the trade in "lordships of the manor" in England and Ireland. A London enterprise, trading through a number of shell companies, has proposed the idea that every Irish barony (administrative division of the county) carries the title of baron, and is marketing these imaginary titles to gullible purchasers. Just another scheme to lighten our wallets. (From HISTORY IRELAND, Autumn 1996, via BULLETIN BOARD of the Eastside Genealogical Society, Bellevue WA, April 1997.)

NOT HELLO BUT JELL-O, WELCOME TO AMERICA!

Did you know that as immigrants passed through Ellis Island, they were often served a bowl of Jell-O as a welcome to America. Jell-O turned 100 years old in March. (EASTSIDE JOURNAL, March 1997, via BULLETIN of the Eastside Society, Bellevue WA, April 1997,)

Here lies Jane Smith, wife of Thomas Smith marble cutter. This monument was erected by her husband as A tribute to her memory and a specimen of his handiwork. Monuments of this style are two hundred and fifty dollars.
Here lies the tongue of Godfrey Sill Who always lied And lies here still
At rest beneath this church yard stone Lies stingy Jimmy Wyatt. He died one morning just at 10 And saved a dinner by it.

REURNS. BURIED IN PHILLY?

The Philadelphia City Archives has "cemetery returns" (names and dates of those buried) from about 1806 to 1860 and death records from 1860 to 1915. (This sounds a little better than record keeping in other parts of the state. But are they indexed? In order to get a death record from the state without paying enormous search fees, one must know the date of death!) [Note: The Philadelphia Death Index, as filmed by LDS, is illegible and will be no help!/mfp.] (PIONEER BRANCHES, Oct 1996, via Tacoma-Pierce County RESEARCHER, Winter 1997.)

NEW REGULATIONS
ON
REPLY COUPONS

The German Post Office has changed their way of handling international reply coupons. Regulations now state that only one international reply coupon can be accepted for any letter or package. Postal charges over the value of the IRC must be paid in cash by the mailer. One $1.05 IRC provides 3DM of postage for foreign mail to your correspondent. This amount only covers about one sheet of paper and the envelope. Thus, postage for anything more must be paid by them. This will lead to a larger expense for them to send us copies of documents. IRC's can no longer be turned in by Germans for cash. They can only use them for mailing a letter, etc. Please request only the copies you need. (St. Louis Gen Soc, via So King County NEWS, May/June 1998.)

UNIQUE

Switzerland is unique in that citizenship is by community. A person is first a citizen of their community, secondly a citizen of their Cantons, and last a citizen of Switzerland. The citizenship is inherited, independent from a change of residence. In theory, vital information of births, marriages and deaths are sent to the village of citizenship, even though the person may have never seen their "home town." A law was passed that required civil registration of vital records as of 1 January 1876. Prior to that time records were kept by the parish church in the hereditary home town. To do research, it is necessary to know the village in which an ancestor held citizenship. (From the Rick Saunders article appearing in the Boulder Colorado Gen Soc Quarterly, vol 30 #1, February 1998)
