President's Message

Happy New Year! After November and December, how bad can January be? I hope you all had your power back for Christmas at the very latest.

My New Year's resolutions include a whole list of genealogical goals some of which came from reviewing old research notes. Under the scrutiny of fresh eyes and more experience, several possible routes around one of my brick walls became evident. Wish me luck!

The Washington State Genealogical Society is asking members of local genealogical societies to send in the names of volunteers who have given outstanding service to their society or contributed to the effort to preserve records of genealogical and/or historical value. This can be an individual or a team. Send the name or names with a 125 word description of the preservation project(s) or service(s) to Bob Witherspoon, PO Box 491, Bellingham, WA 98227-0491 or by e-mail to rgwspoon@aol.com. If you have a head-and-shoulders photo of each person or the team, send that along to be included on the certificate of appreciation. Please include the maiden names of female nominees. The deadline is March 10, 2007. Formal recognition will take place at the WSGS annual meeting on April 14, 2007, in Wenatchee.

This is not a competition. Every person nominated will be recognized for their achievement. Names of previous recipients can be obtained from Bob Witherspoon. I have examples of possible formats to use for nominations and can be contacted at rbh25@comcast.net.

I am looking forward to seeing each of you in 2007 and hearing about your latest adventures in genealogy.

Pat Harper
President

Other News

The printer the Olympia Genealogical Society has purchased for the genealogy computers at the Olympia Timberland Library will be arriving early in 2007.

Also, thanks to Jean Laws, there are 32 newly bound volumes of genealogical periodicals available. All of the bound periodicals are indexed in the Periodical Source Index (PERSI) which is available on HeritageQuest genealogy database, on CD-ROM through 1999 on the genealogy computers at the Olympia Library and in books through 1997, also at the Olympia Library.

DELIVERING THE GENEALOGICAL GOODS

by Judith Upton

Well, if you followed the suggestions in "Gathering the Genealogical Goods," you've checked the marriage, birth, death, tax, and cemetery records for your family. You've used up your free trials at Polk City Directory and Ancestry.com and done your detective work in Census Place, perhaps even gendisasters.com and the county jail records. ("Gathering the Genealogical Goods" was published in the October 2006 Quarterly.)

It's truly amazing what today's technology will enable you to find. Searching the census report of 1880 for the Glimpses of Gate book project led me to discover that Plug Ugly was really Ugly Plug, a native American who was 70 years old at the time, married to 65 year old Sally Plug, and listed as a hunter from WA Territory. It also made me look twice at the Woodruff family, who were listed as the Woodroofs. It caused me to consider what revisionist history was when I discovered that one of the early settlers was listed as having a native American wife who presented him with a baby girl the same year that his wife back east presented him with a baby girl. I had to look at my motives in my search for reporting the whole truth, and weigh if the information I'd found was useful or hurtful.

Hopefully you've found some great old photographs, scanned them, enlarged them, and carefully searched them for details. Dressed for the Photographer by Severa could help you investigate how the clothing style can give you clues to the culture and time period. The on-line article "Photography as a Tool in Genealogy" by Ron Willis offers clues to dating the photos by type (tintype, daguerreotype), and distinguishing colors, borders, and comers. The really curious among you have checked out Learning - City Gallery, and Familyoldphotos.com.

Just before you're overwhelmed with the amount of material you've collected, you need to ask the hard questions that will help you organize it. Have you set boundaries on your material? They might include time span, place, and how "extended" the family tree limbs will be. Are you moving from family to community, or from the macrocosm to the microcosm? Are you moving forward or backward in time? Are you dealing with the material in a chronological manner, or by subject (church, school, business)?

Now, in a nut-shell article covering book-length material, come the three essential steps: type up, print up, and follow up. With your boundaries set and your outline in mind, you can assemble your material. After the first typing in a program like Word, you are ready to edit back any extraneous (ie, unnecessary and uninteresting to anyone but you) information, and do the first re-writing. It could be time to print a hard copy and blue pencil (it's not as intimidating as red pencil) proofread. After you've taken a good hard look at it yourself, it would be worth the time to find someone to read it checking for proper grammar and spelling. It might be worth a trip to the Olympia Writers Workshop (Westside Olympia Barnes and Noble Wednesdays, 7pm). They respond graciously to a cry for help. A person with technical expertise might check the sections on logging, railroading, or special areas that you haven't experienced. A professional who is not familiar with your family or area might be able to give you feedback about whether you've gotten all of the material you know so well written in a coherent fashion.

This brings up the next Big Question before you print up: who is your audience? Are you running a few copies for immediate family, documenting something important to your community, or hoping to find a place for your work in state museums and libraries? Your answer will help determine the number of copies you want and thus what the project will cost you. Desktop or local printers might satisfy your family, but an experienced self-publisher like Gorham may give you a more professional appearance either in hardback or paperback. For some of you that are more adventurous, internet self-publishing on demand might suit you. Be sure to read the fine print about who has what rights to your material!

There are decisions to make about the size of the page, type, and margins. The type of paper and even color will affect the appearance of your final product. If you are including some of your photographs, they could be interspersed with the type or put into one section. They need to be digitized at 300 dpi, cropped, and identified. If you are going to do a formal layout, you need to consider and prepare an introduction, dedication, table of contents, and possible a bibliography and index. They all take space, which equals more pages and more money. You will need to decide on a cover design and how many colors you are willing to pay for. As is true in so many fields, the more you do, the more you save. Library of Congress and ISBN numbers are spendy options. You can export your Word document to a Pagemaker program, which will help you with the setup you need to format onto a disc that can be delivered to your printer.

The follow up may consist of recouping your cost by publicizing and promoting your product. If you're generous and wealthy, you may opt to give copies to your dearest relatives. If not, you can take prepaid orders from them! If your audience is larger, you will want to look at getting newspaper and magazine review, and speaking engagements at local bookstores, senior centers, museums, and libraries.

Have you counted the cost? John Updike said that "One writes as best one can, out of the life one leads, in the faith of touching other lives sometimes..." The satisfaction of a dream realized, a project completed, a book published - priceless.

Mystery Photographs

The photographs on the cover and these two pages were obtained by Judith Upton while she was researching her book Glimpses of Gate. Little is known about them. Can you help identify them?

(This should be a reminder to all of us to label our photographs!)

The above picture was taken by George Pearson, who lived on the Chehalis Reservation. Who are the people in it? Is this a harvest celebration? Hops harvest, maybe?

Bordeaux Logging Company Camp Four in 1903. The man second from the left in the front row is Arthur Brainard from Tenino. Anyone know who the others are?

Was this building in Littlerock, Gate, or Oakville? The men tentatively identified are from Gate, but could have worked in logging camps around the area.

Technical Computer Terms

Richard A. Pence

Back in the early 1980s when computers were first inching their way into the world of genealogy - often overcoming huge pressures from the "establishment" - a group of National Genealogical Society members in the National Capital area managed to get the NGS Board of Directors to create a Computer Interest Group (CIG). When we were into our second year, it became my lot to be the (volunteer unpaid) editor of the CIG's monthly newsletter, sent to any member expressing an interest.

Knowing that many of us were novices and aware of the resistance to change among some members as well as leaders, I took great care to make sure that the jargon was at a minimum and, if it had to be used, then I tried to explain it.

A few months later I got a phone call from the president of NGS. She reported that she had received a letter from a member complaining that the CIG newsletter was too technical and it should either be done away with or a new editor "employed."

I asked if the letter mentioned anything in particular that was causing problems with understanding the articles. There wasn't, but the NGS president agreed to contact the letter-writer for specifics. Back came this complaint:

"I have been involved in genealogy nearly all of my life. For the past 30 years I have been president of our county genealogical society and I am well-versed in genealogy and its terminology. But these computer people can't use plain English and their writings are full of words like "ahnentafel."

It was with great glee I sent the following explanation to the NGS president, who passed all but the last sentence on to the "veteran genealogist":

"An ahnentafel (from the German word meaning "ancestor table") is a way of numbering a person's ancestors. This method is used worldwide and is sometimes called the Sosa-Stradonitz System for the Spanish genealogist Jerome de Sosa who first used it in 1676 and for Stephan Kekule von Stradonitz who popularized it in his 1896 Ahnentafel Atlas_. The "easy" name for this method ("ahnentafel") comes from the title of the 1896 book. Are there any other technical computer terms we can help you with?"

Marian S. Hart

Marian S. Hart, 92, died peacefully in Leavenworth, Washington, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Nancy and Peter Fallert on September 30, 2006. During her time with Nancy and Peter, she enjoyed sitting out on their deck listening to the birds and looking out over the meadow. Marian enjoyed the family pets, which included her beloved Molly and Tabby. She often had the antics of a cat to watch or a dog close by to pet.

Betsy Steele, Marian's caregiver while in Leavenworth, was a blessing to all of us. She read "Miss Read" to Marian, engaged her in conversation, brought tidbits to tempt her appetite, and made her feel special. Thank you to all the people of the Central Washington Home Care and Hospice. We especially thank P J, Terry, Ginny, and Kim.

Marian was born on August 30, 1914, in Seattle, Washington, to Robert and Mary Anne Stewart. She was the oldest of four children. She graduated from Everett High School, attended Seattle Pacific University and the University of Washington, and received a Degree in Education and a lifetime teaching certificate. During her teaching career, Marian taught in several elementary schools in the Highline School District and was an elementary librarian in the Federal Way School District. While with the Highline School District, Marian was "Teacher of the Year" two times. Marian taught for 32 years. After retiring in 1974, she and Bob moved to Olympia, Washington.

While in Olympia, Marion was very active in a number of organizations. These included the British Friends, the Genealogy Society, the Doll Club, the Miniature Club, Concern for Animals and others. She was very interested in history and served for a number of years as a volunteer at the state capitol building in Olympia.

Marian and Bob enjoyed traveling and attending special events of their grandchildren. Marian collected and furnished dollhouses, put together family histories, and restored antique quilts. She had a special interest in her dear family on the Isle of Man and always stayed in contact with them. Marian was considered the "family historian" by all and she was one of the last great letter writers of our time.

Robert E. Hart, her loving husband of 52 years; her sister Elizabeth (Stewart) Mulligan; and her brother, Robert Stewart preceded Marian in death. She is survived by her sister, Catharine (Stewart) White; her son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Janet Hart; her daughter and son-in-law, Nancy and Peter Fallert; three grandchildren, Brian Bradley-Hart (Julie), Jess StewartMaize (Jessica), and Jina Janssen; three great-grandchildren, Beck, Ethan, and Zoe; and numerous nieces and nephews.

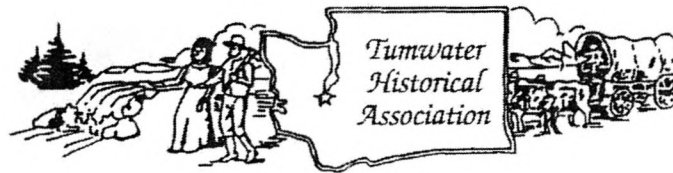

As per her wishes, there will be a private, family graveside service at the Masonic Memorial Park in Turn water. On Sunday, October 22, 2006, there will be a memorial gathering at the United Churches, 110 11th Avenue S.E. and Capitol Boulevard, beginning at 2:00 pm. Please join us in celebrating the life of this loving, warm, generous lady.

Funeral arrangements made by Ward's Funeral Chapel in Leavenworth and Funeral Alternatives of Washington in Tumwater. In lieu of flowers, please donate to Concern for Animals.

Please leave memories and condolences online at: www.funeralalternatives.org

The above obituary was published Sunday October 15, 2006, in The Olympian

*Marian was a member of Olympia Genealogical Society from 1990 to 2002.
She manned the refreshment table at meetings and seminars for many years.*

A Tribute to Marian Hart Community Activist and Historian

There are many reasons for a special tribute to Marian Hart. She devoted herself to historical preservation throughout her 87 years, and particular^ to the recognition and preservation of Tumwater's unique history during the last twenty or more years. Among those reasons:

- Marian was a willing, consistent and long-time volunteer for both the Tumwater Historical Association and the State Capital Museum.
- She was an active member and volunteer throughout the existence of the Tumwater Historical Association. Her history with THA includes - Volunteering at Henderson House Museum for several years.
 - Serving in various Tumwater Historical Association officer and trustee positions on many occasions.
 - Filling roles such as as hostess, hospitality chair, and financial resource chair for THA at various times over the twenty or more years.
 - Instrumental in the development of historical fashion shows, including writing and narrating those shows, one of which has been videotaped for posterity.
 - Hosting the Tumwater Historical Association board meetings at her home for many years.
- She was for many years a volunteer at Tumwater's historic Crosby House.
- She was instrumental in developing, constructing, furnishing and decorating a one inch scale replica of the Crosby House which now resides at the Tumwater Timberland Library'.
- She has preserved some of the history of her own family and its Oregon community by rescuing parts of the family home (including the porch roof line) and reconstructing it in her own backyard to house her collection of miniature houses and collectibles.
- She was honored at the 1998 Living the legacy: A Salute to Washington Women event sponsored by the Legacy98 South Puget Sound Task Force and the Saint Martin's Women's Symposium as among the "Very Important Women of South Puget Sound." This honor was given both for her interest and leadership in historical preservation as well as her 32-year teaching career, and active involvement in Genealogy Club, Miniature Enthusiasts of Olympia, Washington (MEOW), and Sweet Adelines.
- She was recognized by the City of Tumwater as its 2001 Historian of the Year because of her unique personal activism in promoting recognition and presentation of Tumwater's heritage.

WPA Press Release From the files of the Washington State Library:

RELEASE AT WILL:
June 10, 1941

P.R. # 1330

Since May 6, 1940, approximately 75 workers have been engaged in assisting the Registrar of Vital Statistics of the Washington State Department of Health in making a complete index of the records of births and deaths since the year 1907, stated Carl W. Smith, state Work Projects Administrator.

Data is being collected from existing records now in the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health which concerns the places and dates of births and deaths of residents of the State of Washington, parents names, sex and other vital information.

WPA workers are typing the names, dates and serial numbers for 1,500,000 birth and death certificates onto cards. These cards are then phonetically indexed and photostats made of them, after which they are compiled into ledger book form where they will be more readily available for the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health and the State Department of Social Security.

The importance of this work can be judged, said Smith, by the fact that since July 1, 1907, the Washington State Department of Health has been receiving for permanent filing, all copies of birth and death records in the state. While a card index has been kept of these records, it has never been systematically made up, cards having been filed without tie-rods within large alphabetical subdivisions only, and much mis-filing has taken place. Slight differences in size of cards used increased the difficulty of using this index. It has also grown to such proportions that providing space for the index presents a grave problem. Several different filing bases have also been used in various years which further complicated the problem.

The WPA project, when completed, will provide a systematic uniform ledger type index which will reduce storage space requirements to a minimum and will make possible maintaining indexes, both in the Department of Social Security, and the Department of Health, an added safety and utility factor.

The average finding time of a given original record now is 15 to 20 minutes. With the new index the finding time of any record in the file will be 30 seconds. A large percentage of the requests for certified birth certificates are of an emergency nature. Workers going to work on a National Defense project are requested to go to work on a certain date and must have a birth certificate in order to obtain the job. Most persons wait until they are called to work before obtaining their certificates. With the large number of persons now going into defense work, requests for certificates are running approximately 250 daily and have reached 500 per day. The new filing system makes it possible to handle this volume without confusion or delay.

Getting a birth certificate has also become quite a fad. Old and young are calling at the Vital Statistics office for their birth certificates. This also has increased the volume of requests considerably.

Due to the increased demand for affidavits of places and dates of births or information from these records from persons who, because of the National Defense emergency, require proof of citizenship and age, the State Department of Health requested additional assistance from WPA to assist the Registrar of Vital Statistics in filling these requests for information from birth records. This additional work includes handling an intake of requests; search, photographing and mailing birth records; filing delayed certificates and affidavits of birth; returning requests unaccompanied by fee; referring requests to Bureau having original records; correcting records by affidavit or re-creation of new records; creating new certificates covering adoption cases, handling communications of an unusual nature and complaints; and filing correspondence and records.

Material for the above information will be drawn from a library of a million-and-one-half certificates which have been filed since July 1, 1907, together with an index which refers to them. This index contains approximately 1,500,000 cards.

Until the emergency arose for the National Defense program concerning birth certificates, the Division of Vital Statistics was called upon to furnish between 30 and 40 certified copies per day, of all records. The budget for the Department was based on that figure. The Department is, at present, issuing reports from all sources for from 200 to 250 records per day. During the past year, and particularly during the past six months, records for certified copies have steadily mounted. It is anticipated that the requests for certified copies will increase very materially to as much as four times the present intake of 250 requests per day. This great increase in requests for proof of citizenship and age has come about largely through developments of the National and International situation which makes it necessary for basic war-time industries to determine that those persons employed by them are citizens and by the building up of the armed forces of the Government of the United States. It is also true that many private industries inspired by the example of the National Government, have also insisted on proof of citizenship by those employed by them.

According to Smith the State Department of Health could not have provided the personnel or additional material to take care of this additional load without Federal assistance.

A total of $87,804 has been allotted for the prosecution of this work with a $6,091 contribution from the sponsor.

Humor from the Internet (author unknown)

The following conversation was overheard at a party attended by high society people: "My ancestry goes all the way back to Alexander the Great," said one lady. She then turned to a second lady and asked, "And how far does your family go back?" "I don't know," was the reply. "All of our records were lost in the Flood."

Genealogy for the Funnybone:

Genealogy: Tracing yourself back to better people.
I trace my family history so I will know who to blame.
Can a first cousin, once removed, return?
Searching for lost relatives? Win the lottery!
Do I even want ancestors?
Every family tree has some sap in it.
Friends come and go, but relatives tend to accumulate.
Genealogists never die, they just lose their roots.
Genealogy: A haystack full of needles. It's the threads I need.
Genealogy: Where you confuse the dead and irritate the living.
Heredity: Everyone believes in it until their children act like fools!
I think my family tree is a few branches short of full bloom.
Life is lived forwards, but understood backwards.
Theory of relativity: If you go back far enough, we're all related.

EXCHANGE NOTES

by
Jean Laws & Pat Philippsen

The publications mentioned are sent to our society in exchange for our Quarterly which is sent to them. They are filed alphabetically by state and county in the vertical files in the genealogical section of the Olympia Library.

Some of them are eventually bound and placed with the bound periodicals in the genealogical section or in storage at the Montesano Library but can be ordered at the reference desk to be sent to your library for your use.

INDEX OF 1883 FARMERS
IN MOODY CO., SD

Moody County Genealogical Society: In the fall of 1883, H. M. Williamson, the Moody County Enterprise publisher, visited farmers in the northern tier of Moody County townships and recorded farmers' names, place of birth, age, spouse, number of children, acres owned, acres cultivated, animals owned, and when he moved to Moody County. The Moody County Genealogical Society has compiled an index of farmers and families.

NJ INFO ONLINE	The Trenton (New Jersey) Historical Society has placed some of its information online. Information on the website includes: two sets of obituary indexes, six searchable Trenton City Directories, Five Trenton junior high schools, and a History of Trenton 1679-1929, along with digitized versions of the history's maps and illustrations. Go to: http://www.trentonhistory.org
FINDING BLACK SHEEP	Fiske Genealogical Foundation Newsletter, June 2006: Have you found your black sheep? You may wish to try Tyler Schulze's website at http://blacksheepancestors.com You will find a well-organized presentation of on-line resources connecting to prison records, court records, executions and biographies of outlaws and criminals. The largest part of the site deals with the United States, Canada and the British Isles. There are also worldwide links from this site. Many of the links are to 1930 census records from specific prisons or mental asylums. The availability of records varies from state to state.
WWII OLD MEN'S DRAFT REGISTRATION LIST	WWII Old Men's Draft Registration (listing of men between the ages of 45 and 64 on April 27, 1942) is available at www.ancestry.com under the heading, US World War II Draft Registration Cards 1942. These cards show the name, age, birthplace, birthdate, place of residence, name and address of a person who would always know the registrant's whereabouts, name and address of the registrant's employer, and simple physical characteristics of the registrant. The Ancestry database is complete for registrations in Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia. It is partially available for New Jersey and New York.

ILLINOIS ONLINE DATA	The Urbana Free Library, Champaign County, Illinois has created a Local History Online Database at http://urbanafreelibrary.org/archives.htm and offers a research service for at-a-distance researchers. The database indexes probate cases from 1833-1914 and chancery court cases from 1834-1862 and 1921-1969. Death registers or certificates from 1878 to 1912 and from 1986 to 1997 are now in the database. A search will also find births from 1878-1900 and marriage licenses from 1893-1908.

- SCANDINAVIAN HISTORY OF IMMIGRANTS Tacoma Pierce Co Spring and Summer 2006. If you have Scandinavian ancestry you need to read the articles on the Scandinavian Immigrant Collection and Manuscripts. These include an oral history collection in the Pacific North West done by Dr Janet Rassmussen. All those interviewed are listed here and where they were from. There is also an alphabetical listing of manuscripts in the collection.
- NEW ANNUAL JOURNAL Same society Sep/Oct 2006. Something new! This society is going to publish the Researcher once a year now. It will focus on records of local and regional interest. The newsletter will carry time-dependent articles and news of interest to members.
- WARREN CO., ILL DATA Prairie Pioneer-Warren Co III Jul/Aug/Sep 2006. Donated by Alma Greenwood. As usual there are many records and articles on Warren Co and vicinity. I also found an item of interest for all genealogists researching Ireland from the Boston Globe Aug 29, 2006. There is an online map archives from the Irish government. These maps will contain details of every town, street and farm in Ireland dating back nearly 200 years. There is a charge for this but it should be a boon for Irish researchers. For more details go to <http://tinyrul.com/pzzzs>.
- IRISH RESEARCH HELP
- BAVARIA IMMIGRATION Stillaguamish Valley G S Sep Oct 2006. Good article on Bavaria Emigration as well as many local records.
- 1849 CENSUS CLARK CO. Clark Co Wash G S Sep Oct 2006. Census of 1849 when Clark Co was part of Oregon and called Vancouver Co. A microfilm copy of the census was found in the archives in Salem. A group of members worked on interpreting the names and spellings. Speaking of which, there is also an article listing place names in England and how they are pronounced phonetically. For instance, Cirencester is pronounced Sissiter and Beauchamp is Beecham.
- PLACE NAMES IN UK
- DISCONTINUED TEXAS POST OFFICES Ft Worth G S Aug 2006. Besides many Tarrant Co records, there are 3 pages of discontinued Post Offices in Texas with their counties. This should help identify some Texas towns no longer on the map.
- INDIANA CIVIL WAR RESEARCH Hoosier Genealogist from the Ind. Historical Society Vol 46 #2 2006. Military records and how to research your Ind. Civil War ancestors.
- WIMER FAMILIES, THOMAS CHAVNER Rogue Valley G S Fall 2006 This issue features articles on Thomas Chavner, Gold Hill Entrepreneur, Wimer Families of S. Oregon and descendants of Valentine Wimer.
- DECLINE OF GEN SOC, GROWTH OF HERITAGE Skagit Valley G S Sep Oct 2006. A thoughtful article on the decline in membership of genealogical societies but the growth and popularity of heritage societies such as DAR and Mayflower.
- CEMETERY READING Greater Omaha Neb G S Aug 2006 A long and interesting article on 21st century techniques of cemetery reading. This includes tools you need, database entry and file organization.
- GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE Yakima Valley G S Sep 2006 An article on grounds for divorce in 1889 from various states.
Ungovernable temper in Ky
Gross misbehavior or wickedness in R I
Refusal of wife to move into the state in Tenn
Such indignities as render life burdensome in Wash Territory.
How did they prove these?
- BRICK WALLS Muskegon Co Mich Sep 2006 many pages devoted to Brick Wall Ancestors. Whatever is known about the person is listed and what the researcher would like to learn. Sounds like a good method.

- OLD WHITMAN COUNTY Whitman Co Wa Newsletter Oct 2006. A very interesting article from the Pullman newspaper Apr 13 1945. It is by S L Brown, a pioneer in Whitman Co since 1881 and is illuminating on what E Wash was like in territorial days.
- AGE FROM CENSUS Rapid City S D Aug 2006 Here you find a foolproof way to calculate a person's age born prior to 1850 based on the early censuses.
- MAPS IN RESEARCH Minnesota G S Vol 35 # 1-4 2004. Playing catchup I guess. Huge article on using maps in genealogical research both print and electronic. Also a map glossary for Polish German research. For instance, an estate, farm or manor would be Gut and graves would be Grab or Graber.
- CEMETERY INFO Jefferson Co Wa Fall 2006 Do you know the difference between a cemetery and a graveyard? Or why military cemeteries were created? Read America's Cemeteries, an informative history. Also in this issue a history of tombstones, and tools for exploring a cemetery.
- OHIO TAXES Toledo Oh Area G S Sep 2006 A research tip on Ohio taxes. Land bought in Oh from the Federal Gov. was exempt from all taxes for 5 years from purchase date. Thus landowners taxed on the Ohio 1810 tax list had purchased land by 1805. This statute was part of the Ordinance of 1801.
- SOURDOUGH BREAD Okaloosa Co Fl G S Spring Summer 2005. Great article on sourdough starter-history of, how to make and use it and baking bread.
- TIME FOR GENEALOGY Kittitas Co Sep 2006. Contributes this truth! The Time for Genealogy
When you have the energy and the time
You haven't the money!
When you have the energy and the money
You haven't the time
When you have the money and the time
You haven't the energy!
- WWII RATIONING Cornerstone G S Aug 2006 Waynesburg Pa. Article on rationing during WW II which should bring back memories to some of us. Something to share with your children and grandchildren. Other aspects of WW II are also discussed.
- ORANGE CO., CA QUILTS PUBLISHING JOURNAL We were notified by Orange Co Cal that they are no longer publishing their quarterly called The Journal so they are off our exchange list. Back issues are in our library.
So if you wish to join this society yourself here is the address:

- 2006 CONF THANKS Washington State G S Sep Oct 2006 Certificates of Appreciation were sent to the contributors of the 2006 Conference held here in Olympia .If you have any contact with them you might thank them also. Also a good article on finding genealogy material and books on ebay. Have you tried this source yet? The author found a quilt made in 1840 by his gr gr gr uncle with a letter from his granddaughter in the 1930's so there is more than just books.
- EBAY: BOOKS & MORE
- COAL MINING IN KS Crawford Co Ks Researcher Jul, Aug. Sep 2006 Coal mining accidents have been in the news this year but somehow I haven't thought of them in Ks. This issue is about Coal Mining Accidents in Ks 1886-1950 and includes a coal mining terminology dictionary.

- CEMETERY VANDALS Greater Omaha Neb Sep 2006. A long informative and useful article on Who is Vandalizing America's Cemeteries? Helpful if one of your ancestors is buried in one that has been vandalized as it gives some ideas on prevention and what can be done after this has happened.
- NATIVE AMERICAN SOURCES IN ND Dakota Homestead Bismarck N D Sep 2006 This issue features info on sources to help with Native American research on Native American tribes with reservations or councils in N D. This includes Sioux, Chippewa and Mandan, they each have colleges, museums, and archives. The article includes research sources, books and other helpful information.
- RESEARCH ESTIMATING Grays Harbor G S Oct-Dec 2006 Estimating Effectively is a somewhat different approach to genealogical research that might be worth a try.
- ARCHIVE FOR YOUR FILES AND RECORDS Sno-Isle G S 3rd quarter 2006. If you were doing genealogy in the 1970's you will remember Arlene Eakle from Utah who helped us organize our society. She was co-author of the Source and gave many seminars. She has a new project called Genealogy Library Center. This is an archive to which people can send their personal genealogy files and records. If this interests you, check out this article for details. If you collection is in danger of being tossed this may be the answer.
- PASSPORTS Hemet-San Jacinto Sep 2006. Have you wondered about passports-whether your ancestor had one, where to find it etc. Read all about it in this issue.
- MAE WEST: GENEALOGY Oregon G S Fall 2006 Have you ever tried to trace someone famous through the census? Almost as much fun as tracing our own. Here is an account of Mae West who got younger in each census from 1900-1930.
- NEW PORTLAND, OR, GENEALOGY LIBRARY A new genealogy library is coming to Portland Or. It will be called the Connor-Bishop Historical Resource Center. Ruth Bishop and others have contributed material and money to this. Something to look forward to--a new source for research in the PNW when it is ready.
- VIGILANTES IN E. WA Walla Walla Valley G S Sep 2006. Fascinating article on the vigilantes in the area in the early days and some of the "bad guys" they took care of. This is taken from the 1944 Progress Edition of the W W Union Bulletin.
- HOMESTEAD RECORDS FGS Forum Fall 2006. Two extensive and helpful articles in this issue. One is on homestead records, where to find them, what they contain etc. The other is on the Spanish American War and how to find military records of its veterans including an account of one man, Richard Oskison, a Rough Rider.
- SPANISH AMER WAR
- WAR REMEMBRANCES S W Penn Oct 2006 Pictures from the traveling wall honoring, respecting and remembering our men and women in the armed forces from the Rev. War to Desert Storm.
- TOLEDO TWP, TAMA CO. Tama Co la Museum News Oct 2006. Most of this issue is about Toledo twp. including history, early settlers, recollections and even the 1860 census.
- WA NEWS, TIPS, INDEX FOR 1851 CA CENSUS Washington State G S Nov/Dec 2006. Even if you aren't a member, our society is, and we receive their newsletter so take a look at it. Lots of Wash, news and many useful tips for genealogists such as the index for 1851 Canadian census now on line, Mass. Death index online and more.
- MA DEATH INDX ONLINE
- RESEARCH IDEAS San Luis Obispo Ca Nov 2006 This bulletin is now published twice a year instead of quarterly. This issue has several articles written by members of the society on their research. We can all learn from others even if the families & areas aren't ours.

Ethics, Etiquette, and Copyright in Genealogy

This is a topic that comes up every now and then on the internet. Everyone should be aware of the problems with publishing research. It's an especially aggravating problem to genealogists who want to share their research but don't want to see it copied and reproduced randomly without permission. There are no easy answers, but here are a few links to guide us.

Thanks to Marilyn Cannon for the following links:

Genealogical Standards for Sharing Data can be found at
